Defense Suffers Another Blow In Westwood Case

Laboratory Detective Says
Stains On Hand Came

Defense

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Another smashing blow was struck today by a nationally known "laboratory detective" who testified the stains on the right hand of the "squire, accused of murdering his wife, Martha, could be explained only as gunpowder.

Dr. C. W. Muchberger, of the scientific crime detection laboratory at Northwestern University, told the jury of five women and seven men:

Only Explanation

"Under these conditions, no other explanation is possible than that the particles (on Westwood's right hand) were gunpowder."

The particles were revealed by various chemical tests made of a wax mold taken of Westwood's right hand.

Westwood's attorneys immediately pounced on the testimony and subjected the bespectacled "laboratory detective" to a grueling cross-examination which failed to shake his story.

Westwood himself meanwhile waited restlessly to take the stand and testify in his own defense that he was attending a gay roadhouse party at the time of his wife's death. Four beautiful women likewise waited to tell the jury Westwood may have been an adventurer but not a murderer.

Stage Was Set

Assistant District Attorney Chauncey W. Pruger carefully laid the stage for the introduction of Dr. Muchberger's testimony. Step by step he led the scholarly scientist

PA NEW OBSERVES

There was a peculiar change in the weather during the night. Last evening, the weather was turning much colder, but during the night it warmed up considerably and started to rain. This is the second time, this has occurred during the past few weeks.

Mist and rain early this morning which froze on streets highways made travel difficult for some time. As the morning advanced however, the ice softened and traffic was made easier.

Dear Pa New:

The question that I am asked most about birds is, will they continue to come back to the places that they get food. I will answer this with the words of Harry T. Amberson of 214 Milton Way. He said that seven years ago his father started to feed the birds and among them was a Blackbird that fed at a window sill and Mr. Amberson said that today he is still feeding that same Blackbird along with Cardinals and Chickadees. In the field at summer time where the wildflowers grow is the paradise of the Goldfinch, but for the past week a Goldfinch has been feeding at Gaston Park. The bird is not in his summer dress of yellow for the winter has faded all the beauty out of his golden coat.

Governor Hoffman Explaining Reprieve to Members of the Press

Surrounded by newspaper reporters at Trenton, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, of New Jersey, explains his action in granting Bruno Richard Hauptmann a reprieve of 30 days. "I am granting a reprieve," the governor is saying, "for divers reasons which I do not care to disclose at this time." Attorney General David T. Wilentz, who prosecuted Hauptmann, is shown at Hoffman's right.

Rome Says Ethiopian Casualties Reach 5,000 In Latest Engagement

ROME, Jan. 18.—Ethiopian casualties in the big battle of the Gana Dorya river mounted to 5,000 today as General Rodolfo Graziani's Legions raced relentlessly after the fleeing enemy.

While airplanes blasted the depots of Ras Desta Demtu around Negelli, official communique No. 100 announced, the speedy mobile forces of the Italians dashed another 124 miles into enemy territory.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in East Africa, telegraphed: "The decisive character of the victory of General Graziani's troops on the Gana Dorya becomes more and more apparent."

Pursuit Continues
"The pursuit continued all day yesterday without any effective resistance on the part of the fleeing enemy. By noon our mechanized columns had advanced to a depth of 200 kilometers (124 miles) from the line along which the battle had begun."

"Our detachments are everywhere, combing out the enemy territory, taking prisoners, and seizing war materials left by the Ethiopians."

"Their casualties, up until yesterday, numbered 5,000."

"The air force co-operates in pursuing the enemy and in bombing concentrations and the supply stations of Ras Desta at Negelli."

"There is nothing to report on the Eritrean front."

Yesterday's communique said the Ethiopian losses amounted to around 4,000.

Probe Death Of Butler County Home Inmate

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 18.—Police today were investigating the death of Martin Piccolo, 46, an inmate of the county home, who fell into a small stream on the Home farm and was drowned.

He suffered a bruised forehead and nose and was believed to have struck rocks in the stream. It was believed he was visiting friends at his former home near Chicora. The Home superintendent, James C. Barr, telephoned Chicora and when he learned the man was not there, began a search. A man with a dog found the body.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 18.—Governor Harold C. Hoffman's wife and three blonde daughters were under the watchful eyes of crack policemen today as a result of a flood of kidnapping and death threats arriving through the mails.

The threats followed Hoffman's reprieve of Bruno Richard Hauptmann. If the governor hadn't intervened, Hauptmann would have died in the electric chair at eight o'clock last night for the murder of Baby Lindbergh.

Precautions Taken
Though the stocky little governor has laughed off previous death scares, it was learned precautions have been taken against the current threats. Sinister "repeat" crank messages—always regarded as dangerous—have alarmed his friends.

It was this type of threat which contributed toward Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's decision to leave the country with his family last month.

The governor would not disclose the contents of the menacing messages. His home is at South Amboy. Similar threats also have been directed anonymously at Attorney

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A plaque in the poets' corner of Westminster Abbey will keep the memory of Rudyard Kipling alive, but his ashes will repose elsewhere.

The body of the world-renowned writer, who died at ten minutes after midnight this morning, will be cremated in his American-born widow announced.

It was understood Mrs. Kipling instructed that the poet's ashes be taken to his Sussex home and agreed that a memorial service be held in Westminster Abbey.

Meanwhile, Kipling's coffin, covered by the Union Jack, was placed in the beautiful, tiny chapel of the Middlesex hospital. The only flowers were a small bunch of violets sent by Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, wife of the prime minister.

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., Jan. 18.—King George V, with a weakened heart and having difficulty in breathing, took a turn for the worse this afternoon as he lay gravely ill in Sandringham house from an attack of bronchial catarrh.

With an anxious nation hanging on every word, a physicians' bulletin was issued at 3:30 p. m. stating:

"His Majesty the King has had some hours of restful sleep. The cardiac weakness and embarrassment of circulation have slightly increased and give cause for anxiety."

The bulletin, first issued for many hours, gave cause for alarm. The king was more seriously ill than he has been at any time since the winter of 1928-29 when he nearly died of similar trouble.

Claim Key Figures Behind Reprieve Of Governor Located

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The "key figures" behind Governor Hoffman's reprieve of Bruno Richard Hauptmann are an ex-officer of the German army... a gassed and wounded alien... and his wife, who lived in a stone house a half mile south of Col. Lindbergh's home in Hopewell, the evening Journal says today in an exclusive story.

The pair, who were questioned secretly after the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby and then forgotten when they produced an alibi for the night of March 1, 1932, were found by the Journal in Hillsdale, N. Y., about 38 miles southeast of Albany.

They are Ernest Wend, 40, and his Russian-born wife, Dr. Mary Lieberman, graduate of Columbia University and a dentist at the State Hospital in Hudson, N. Y.

Memorial To Theodore Roosevelt In New York To Be Dedicated Sunday

PRESIDENT HAS FULL SCHEDULE

By GEORGE DUNNO

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Ceremonies honoring the memory of the first Roosevelt to occupy the White House—the famous T. R.—look President Franklin D. Roosevelt away from Washington today for the week-end.

Tomorrow, in New York City, the President will participate in the exercises incident to dedication of the American Museum of Natural history which has been erected as a memorial to Theodore Roosevelt. While governor of New York, the President laid the cornerstone of this building and he was returning today to further honor his distant cousin and distinguished predecessor.

Two Other Engagements With the president was Mrs. Roosevelt, who was T. R.'s niece. Although their politics differed with the first White House Roosevelt, they had a great personal affection for him. T. R., while president, gave his niece Eleanor in marriage to the present chief executive.

The president was taking advantage of the trip to fill two other engagements before returning to the capital tomorrow night. This afternoon he will leave his train at Newark, N. J., for two hours to attend the semi-annual co-ordination meeting of all federal activities in New Jersey under the National Emergency council. Tonight from his New York town house on 65th street, Mr. Roosevelt will speak over the telephone to a meeting of the trustees of the Warm Springs Foundation, who have assembled in New York to discuss the year's plans for the nationwide birthday balls to raise funds for the fight against infantile paralysis. This address will be broadcast.

Dr. Condon And Daughter Stay In Canal Zone

Register In Hotel At Ancon, Canal Zone, And Will Stay Indefinitely

(International News Service)

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., Jan. 18.—Dr. John P. Condon, "Jafise" of the Lindbergh-Hauptmann case, and his daughter, Mrs. Myra Hacker, made their headquarters at the Hotel Tivoli in Ancon, C. Z., today and said the length of their visit there was indefinite.

Their plans, they said, depended entirely on the health of Mrs. Hacker, who has not been well recently.

Dr. Condon yesterday volunteered to return immediately to New York in connection with the kidnap case, but was informed by Attorney General David T. Wilentz in a cablegram that there was no need for him to change his plans.

GOV. HOFFMAN'S FAMILY UNDER SPECIAL WATCH

General David T. Wilentz and the family of Hunterdon county Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauk since the start of the newest and most heated controversy in the Hauptmann case.

Despite the danger to which his position has exposed himself and others, Hoffman was stubbornly sticking to his guns. The state house still buzzed with comment on the governor's bristling statement to the press in which he defied impeachment for his action.

In this statement Hoffman stated clearly he believes more than one person participated in the crime. He likewise impugned the conduct of the state and the police both during and after the trial, intimating that "passion and prejudice" was allowed to play in convicting Hauptmann and questioning the "truthfulness and mental competency" of some of the state's witnesses.

A good investigation of the Lindbergh case might be a healthy thing," he declared.

Wilentz To Answer Outraged at the statement, Attorney General Wilentz indicated he would have a scorching answer for the governor today. Through clenched teeth he said:

"He won't get away with any more of this. I'll have something to say later."

One more possibility of an impeachment move loomed. Earlier talk of impeachment was discounted by political wisecracks who said that New Jersey Democratic bosses had, in effect, instructed their henchmen: "Just keep out of this mess. Hoffman will hang himself."

But with the Republican governor's amazing attack on Wilentz, the second most important Democrat in the state, the whole situation may be changed by the time the legislature meets in regular session Monday.

Amazing Drama Foreseen Hoffman's threat of a "good investigation of the Lindbergh case opens the possibility of one of the most amazing dramas ever staged before any state legislature—a drama in which the entire crime with its kidnap ladder, ransom notes and other bizarre plot might once more be dragged before the public and in which Dr. John P. "Jafise" Condon, Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf and other now famous witnesses might retell their stories.

Hauptmann, the cause of Jersey's explosive controversy, has been in exceedingly high spirits in his death hour since the reprieve.

"I think the worst is over," now," he jubilantly told his spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Matthews.

Col. Mark O. Kimberlin significantly observed:

"I don't think he will ever confess now."

After paying her husband a joyous visit in the prison yesterday, Mrs. Anna Hauptmann returned to New York with the 36 months old Hauptmann baby, Mannfried.

Meantime, Dr. Condon, whom Hoffman desires to question, was continuing his cruise in Latin-American waters. He cabled Wilentz yesterday that he would voluntarily return to New Jersey whenever he is wanted.

The attorney general advised him to continue his vacation and virtually apologized for the "anguish" caused him by the governor's recent actions.

South Carolina isn't the only state in which you can't get a divorce. There's the state of insolvency.

STATE FARM SHOW WILL OPEN MONDAY

attendance of 5,000, this year's five-day state show is expected to attract 300,000 persons from this and other states to its 10,035 entries and many commercial and government displays. Awards for "Blue Ribbon" winners in various contests approximate $38,000.

Hammers At Work

Hammers pounded throughout the night as exhibitors worked to set up displays in time for Monday's opening. Nearly three-fourths of the exhibits were in place this morning as farmers continued to crowd the sprawling farmshow building with their wealth of prize winning animals and selected farm products.

From the number of entries, many of which have already won prizes at county fairs, it appeared the judges faced five full days of hard work. By association-sponsored eliminations throughout the state, only the "cream of the crop" in each contest classification has reached the show.

Many Contests

Contests of every description, ranging from horse-shoe pitching to presentations of one-act plays, are the program of special features for farmers and farm youth members of 4-H clubs. On Tuesday alone, approximately 1,000 vocational school students will participate in climactic exercises of vocational school day.

Show facilities that expected to prove popular included a cafeteria seating 700 persons, an oyster bar, an innovation. More than a carload of oysters were ordered for the latter. Thirst for anything harder than milk or pop, however, will have to be appeased elsewhere. Neither beer nor liquor will be sold on the show premises.

Week-Long Show

The week-long show, too, will provide opportunity for at least 30 farm associations to hold their annual conventions, scheduled from Monday morning to Thursday afternoon, with others yet to come.

Gov. George H. Earle will be the principal speaker at the opening assembly Monday evening. Secretary of Agriculture J. H. Hensell, French announced today, however, that because of the "agricultural emergency" in Washington, Chester C. Davis, farm adjustment administrator under the recently deposited AAA, will be unable to appear as scheduled Monday night. His place will be taken by Dr. A. W. Gilbert, advisor on state relations for the AAA.

Although every available housing facility was being pressed into use, many of the show participants, particularly 4-H club members and the vocational students, planned to sleep on cots, close to their property, in the farm show building.

Deaths of the Day

Bernard Nord Funeral.

Very impressive funeral rites for Bernard Nord of Bessemer were conducted in the Bessemer Presbyterian church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, after short services had been conducted in the home. Rev. W. Joseph Engle, pastor of the church, was in charge. Friends of the well known Bessemer resident filled the auditorium and basement of the church. A loud speaker was used in order that all could hear the services. There was a beautiful array of flowers, further attesting to the regard the community had for Mr. Nord.

Two touching selections, "Shall We Gather at the River?" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," were sung by Thelma DeArment, Ruth Hult, Audley Snyder and Joseph Martin. A beautiful solo, "The Pearly White City," was sung by Frank Strong of Youngstown, O. Elizabeth Machlin was at the organ.

YOUNG PEOPLE FORM LEAGUE

cer, Miss Dorothy Thompson, of New Wilmington, and Paul Wallace, of Westfield.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by ladies of the host church. Three groups of songs were beautifully sung by a male quartet from Westminster College, and David Aiken, tenor, from the First Presbyterian church, of Ellwood City, gave a solo.

Miss Marjorie Streeter was the song leader, and all participated in the pep singing.

Inspirational Address

A splendid inspirational address was given by Dr. John Jamison McIlvaine, of New Castle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was introduced by Rev. Arthur M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City, presiding officer for the occasion. Dr. McIlvaine's subject was particularly appropriate for young people, "Character Building."

Dr. W. L. Wishart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Sharon, who is chairman of the Presbyterian committee on Christian Education, and with Rev. Stevenson was a guiding force behind the institution of a Presbytery young people's organization, spoke concerning the aims and objectives of the league.

It was due largely to the efforts of Dr. Wishart, and those of Rev. Stevenson from Ellwood, who is a member of Dr. Wishart's committee with particular responsibility for young people's work, that last night's meeting was the outstanding success it was.

After the business meeting and election, the closing devotions were in charge of Miss Grace Morrow and Ralph Newton, of the Bell Memorial church, and Miss Eleanor Kimes and Chester Wilson, of the First church, Ellwood City.

Plan Meeting

The new executives plan to have a meeting in connection with the mid-year efficiency conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association here on January 27, and at that time will make complete arrangements for the program to be followed.

SENIORS HAVE PARTY AT HIGH SCHOOL

In keeping with customs and traditions of the school, the Senior B class was host to the Senior A class at a dance Friday evening, at the high school. A large crowd was present, approximately three hundred people being there. A prominent local orchestra played for the occasion.

Miss Brownstein and Miss Birch, teachers at the high school, were kept very busy tending the fortunes of the students. This proved to be very amusing, as well as quite startling to some of the students.

The main hall of the high school was converted into a bower of beauty by the decoration committee. Sara Edwards, chairman. Colors of the graduating class, scarlet and grey, predominated throughout the color scheme.

Bill Broad and his entertainment committee arranged for "bingo" for those who did not wish to dance.

The committees for the occasion and their respective chairmen were: Ticket committee, Jack Rupert; entertainment, Bill Broad; decorations, Sara Edwards; orchestra, Lloyd Harris; refreshments, Harry Paul. Eddie Donegan, president of the Senior B class acted as general chairman. These chairmen, assisted by the members of their committees, performed a very remarkable bit of work and the success of the evening was largely to them. The women chaperones were presented with beautiful corsages, while the men, who acted as chaperones, wore roses. Miss Martha Neil Shaffer was responsible for the invitations to them.

DINNER CELEBRATION ON 32ND ANNIVERSARY

L. L. O. L. 129 celebrated their 32nd anniversary with a dinner after the regular meeting in the Clendenen hall Thursday evening. There were covers for 35 guests at long tables attractively adorned with winter posies in various colors. The social committee served.

Following dinner, the group had a good time playing bingo and 300. The next meeting was announced for January 30 at the same place.

SOROSIS MEETS AT WOOLCOCK RESIDENCE

Sorosis members named "Religious Sects of Pennsylvania" in answering roll call at their meeting Friday afternoon, in the West Grant street home of Mrs. Daniel B. Woolcock.

During the business session, the president-at-large, Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, presented an invitation to New Castle Sorosis to attend a luncheon-meeting of Youngstown Sorosis February 12, in the Ohio City.

On account of necessary postponement of the election of officers at the previous meeting, the president-at-large, Mrs. Lindsey, presided at the next regular election, March 13. These are: Mrs. R. N. McBurney, president; Mrs. E. A. McLaure, vice president; Mrs. R. W. Hazen, secretary.

The next meeting will take place January 31, with Mrs. J. Lee McFate of Delaware avenue, hostess.

N. K. CLUB NAME OF NEW SOCIAL GROUP

Friday night a group of girls gathered in the home of Miss Elizabeth Lewis at 503 Bell avenue, and during the business meeting it was decided that a new club would be formed, and that the name N. K. Girls club would be adopted by them.

Miss Catherine Lewis presided as chairman of the meeting until the election of officers was held. Those who were elected to serve the club were: Betty Miller, president; Alice Slack, vice president; Ella Pailer, secretary; Wanda Whitmore, treasurer.

It was also decided to hold meetings regularly on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. At an appropriate time, a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. William Selby, assisted by her daughter Catherine Lewis. The remaining portion of the evening was spent with music and chat.

The first regular meeting of the new club will be held at the home of Miss Wanda Whitmore on Grant street, Wednesday, January 22.

SPECIAL GUESTS AT MACON BRIDGE PARTY

A group of special guests, Mrs. W. Sines, Mrs. J. McCullough, Mrs. R. Harris and Mrs. F. DeJare, added interest to the Macon Bridge assembly Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. W. H. Murphy, on Butler avenue.

The usual three tables of bridge proved diverting, the favors being captured by Mrs. J. McFall, Mrs. W. Sines, and Mrs. William Murphy. Sweets were served throughout play. On January 31, the club will have a similar gathering in the home of Mrs. H. J. Reynolds, on East Washington street.

JEWISH WOMEN TO HEAR ATTY. SACK

Mrs. Bessie Kann Sack, young Pittsburgh attorney, will be the speaker for the Legislative committee at the meeting of New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women, which will take place Monday evening, January 20, in Temple Israel.

Council members are anticipating with keen interest the coming of Mrs. Sack, the youngest woman attorney ever admitted to the Allegheny County Bar. Beginning the practice of law in 1930, Mrs. Sack is today only 26 years of age. She holds degrees of B. A. and L. L. B.

Recently, she was appointed by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, attorney for a closed bank. Interested actively in the League of Women Voters, she is, at present, legislative chairman for Allegheny county, of the American Association of University Women, as well as for the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Sack admits that her major ambition in the legal profession is to convince women of their importance in the political field. She believes careers and home life are becoming more closely allied and will talk along these lines next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Harry Friedman is chairman of hostesses for the evening, assisted by Mrs. A. Gonick, Mrs. H. Kilvans, and Mrs. Ted Marlin.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES HAVE UNION MEETING

A union meeting of the Missionary societies of the First United Presbyterian church was held Friday, in the church with about 40 present.

Mrs. Harvey Robinson presided and the devotionals were in charge of Mrs. James Gilfillan. An interesting program was presented which consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. Frances Taylor, and an excellent address on "Faith" by Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates, wife of the pastor of the Third U. P. church.

Mrs. J. F. Replogle sang a lovely vocal solo, accompanied by Alice Taylor. The meeting was concluded with a benediction.

Teatime, afterwards, was enjoyed. The hostesses being members of the Ladies Association. Mrs. S. E. Irvine and Mrs. Roy M. Jamison. The table was prettily decorated in silver and white tones.

For the meeting of the W. G. M. S. which will be held in St. Louis next week, Mrs. Thomas Davis was elected the delegate, with Mrs. James Gilfillan alternate.

THETA NU PLANS ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Proving a gracious hostess Thursday evening, Mrs. Clifford Johns, of Denver avenue, furnished a pleasing entertainment in the form of bingo, awarding the prizes to Mrs. Richard Johns and Mrs. Charles O'Brien.

During the customary business session, plans were completed for an anniversary dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Johns, on Randolph street, Thursday, January 23, at 6:30 o'clock.

In serving a tasty luncheon, the hostess had the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Richard Johns, and Mrs. Mack Wade. February 27, Mrs. Roy McGaffie, of East Laurel avenue, will be hostess.

LEGION DANCE SCORES HIT AT CATHEDRAL

The Legion of Honor introduced a new form of entertainment in their dance programs when they presented Miss Billie Glenn, talented tap dancer, with Amil Lelenko as master of ceremonies, in a floor show on Friday evening in the Cathedral ballroom, assisted by chorus groups under the direction of Miss Billie. Despite the fact many social activities claimed attention at various other spots in the city, it didn't detract from the complete success of this affair, as well over 150 couples, many from out of town, were in attendance.

Dancing was enjoyed to a program of popular tunes, provided by a favorite orchestra, from 9 until 1 o'clock. At 11 p. m. the guests encircled the room, where they witnessed a first class floor show, with Miss Billie in solos, vocal and dance, and duets with Lelenko, that proved a hit. They were ably assisted by the following: Rose Mary Place, Lois Walker, Loretta and Leota Fleeger, Virginia Quiroz, Helen Jackson, Dolores Kuder, Helen Mae Herberg, Dorothy Pitzer and Mary Sacco. A double acrobatic feature was given by Georgene Boyer and Rose Mary Place.

Mrs. Oliver Fleeger was winner of the door prize offered during the evening.

The Legion of Honor has established a reputation here for holding excellent dances, and already has plans formulated for a frolic the first week of February at the Cathedral. The committee, in charge is made up of Earl E. Moffatt, chairman; Clarence S. Jarrett, Leon Deam, Louis Dean, Wilbur J. Chapman, Ralph Jordan and Ivor Richards.

AUXILIARY HAS MEETING AND PARTY

Corp. Harry L. McBride post's auxiliary of the V. F. W. had an interesting meeting on Thursday evening in the Legion Home, with President Elsie Stage presiding.

Plans were made for a tea to be held in the Legion Home on Friday evening, January 24, with Mrs. Helen Dunlap as chairlady.

Following the business session, cards and bingo were played. Mrs. O. A. Rowland was awarded the door prize, with prizes in 500 going to Helen Dunlap, Helen Dickson, Frank Conner and Carl Staebler, while prizes in bingo went to Sue Flynn, Terrence Stickley and Nick Speed.

The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Etta Keelen, chairlady; Emma Wood, Mary Nicholson, Evelyn Woods and Mae Christoph.

LUNCHEON FEATURES JOLLY TEN MEETING

Mrs. J. K. Hess, Gardfield avenue, entertained at a prettily appointed luncheon Friday afternoon in her home, guests being members of the Jolly Ten club. Mrs. Frank McArthur of Youngstown, O., was an out of town member who participated.

After partaking of the menu, the hours were spent leisurely with chat and other forms of amusement. On Tuesday of the coming week the women will hold a 6 o'clock tureen dinner for their husbands. This will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gwin on Glenmore boulevard.

Library Club Meeting
The regular meeting of the Blue Star club was held recently in the story-hour room of the Free Public library.

The members entertained one another by showing what each could do in the line of dancing. Many very fancy and new steps were demonstrated at this meeting.

During the business session plans were made to hold an amateur program sometime in the near future. These plans will be furthered and perhaps completed at the next meeting on Wednesday, January 22.

Luncheon Affair

Butler Girls enjoyed luncheon at one o'clock on Friday, in the home of Mrs. J. W. Anderson, on County Line street. The table was prettily decorated in spring tones, and in serving the delicious menu, the hostess was aided by Anna Catherine.

The afternoon was spent in an informal manner with Mrs. Wilma Armstrong contributing two delightful readings, February 21, there will be another affair of the same kind in the home of Mrs. A. B. Coulter, on Harrison street.

Capsule Friend Club
Mrs. M. Domenic was a pleasing hostess on Thursday evening, to the Capsule Friend club. A very delightful evening was spent playing cards, high scores being won by Mrs. J. Natale and Mrs. L. Cangey.

At an appropriate hour, a well prepared lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Rosa Perrino, Mrs. James Lombardo was a special guest.

It was planned by the club to spend next Friday evening at an uptown tearoom.

Young Matrons

The home of Mrs. Clara Cangey on West Clayton street, was open house for the Young Matrons club Thursday evening. Sewing was the chief diversion during early hours with games and buffets later. Prizes were won by Mrs. Christie Spencer, and Mrs. Sue Cangey. A tempting lunch was served.

On January 30, the club will have a theatre party. Plans were also made for a trip to Pittsburgh in the near future.

Special Meeting

President Mrs. Maurice Slaven announced today that members of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood will hold a special meeting on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Tifereth Israel Synagogue, South Jefferson street.

The Tuesday Bridge club members, will be received in the home of Mrs. Ivor Carlson, 310 Nashanock Boulevard at 1:30 Tuesday.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY SEND BOX TO SOUTH

In the Highland avenue home of Mrs. W. I. Clark, Friday afternoon, the Women's Missionary Society of Highland U. P. church, assembled with an attendance of 21 members.

Following the devotional period in charge of Mrs. W. S. McAnlis, and the prayer cycle led by Mrs. C. C. Lees, splendid talks were given by Mrs. Perry Thomas and Mrs. George Balph. The subject was "Toward a New America."

It was decided at the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. C. H. Fischer, that a box would be packed to send to Afro-Americans in the south. This box will be in charge of Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert, and anyone desiring to make contributions may do so by leaving them at the church this coming week.

The February meeting will be held on the 21st, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wallace, Boyles avenue.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED AT A. A. CLUB SESSION

Individual birthday cakes, prettily decorated, centered the small tables at which A. A. club members were seated for luncheon Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. Ada Riley, on Pennsylvania avenue, after the customary diversions were enjoyed.

The honored one was Mrs. Jennie Eardley, and she received a shower of dainty hankies, the while members sang a happy birthday song. Other decorations were developed in red and white, suggestive of Valentine day, and the aides were the hostess' daughters, Fern and Jean Riley. Prizes at cards were captured by Mrs. Anna Plush and Mrs. Millie Leishman.

In a fortnight, the next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jennie Eardley, on Clearview Ave.

MERRY WIDOWS CLUB AT MCCOY'S FRIDAY

Mrs. Oprie McCoy was a pleasing hostess to Merry Widows club members in her home on Winslow avenue Friday evening, the occasion marking their usual bi-weekly social meeting. Cards were in play, bridge honor awards going to Mrs. Pearson Furst, Mrs. Oprie McCoy and Janet Weddell.

A tasty chow mein menu was served at a later hour, the hostess having her tables nicely appointed suggestive of the season. Miss Susan Wallace was a special guest.

On January 31 the club will be guests of Mrs. Charles Lumley of Meyer avenue.

Enjoyable Shower

A number of guests gathered in the home of Mrs. E. H. Garner, West Washington street, on Friday evening for a delightful shower given in honor of Mrs. Frank Quigley, 615 East Reynolds street.

Cards and a discussion of numerous topics of interest formed the pastimes. Three tables of cards were in play, with Mrs. Ralph Rodgers high scorer in bridge. Miss Evelyn Morrison and Mrs. Glyn Thomas were "500" winners.

At an appointed time, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. B. F. Steinbrink, served an appetizing luncheon.

Full-a-Pep Club

Miss Rose Didiano was a special guest of Full-a-Pep club members when they met Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. Albert Colucci, on East Lutton street.

The popular diversion of 500 was enjoyed, the prizes falling to Mrs. Anthony Marso and Mrs. Dominic Colucci. As the concluding feature, a delectable lunch was served.

Mrs. Anthony Marso, of Pearson street, will be hostess for the meeting on Thursday, January 30.

Aid-A-Gi Club

Miss Dorothy Levine, 207 Edison avenue, will receive members of the Aid-A-Gi club in her home on Monday night, at 8 o'clock.

UPHOLDING THE COURTS

PEOPLE generally complain of jury duty and attempt to shirk whenever they can. This is particularly true of business men, who feel that the time they are compelled to spend in court is lost to them. Thus they attempt to escape when called and many are successful.

On the other hand the same persons who dodge court service are sometimes critical of juries and the verdicts they render. The juries are charged with being incompetent to give well considered verdicts. This can hardly be said of Lawrence county juries as a whole, but in some places it is very apparent.

The situation is summed up in a statement by William L. Ransom, president of the American Bar association, who says:

"All Americans should do all in their power to defend and uphold an independent and courageous judiciary, adequately paid and secure in their tenure, as well as an honorable and independent bar, free from political intimidation or control. No less staunchly, all eligible citizens should do their part in behalf of better juries, by serving faithfully as jurors when called for duty."

It is high time for all good citizens to stop criticizing the courts because of occasional instances where justice according to common sense seems to fail or falter; high time for all good citizens to stop criticizing and traducing the legal profession as a whole because of the cerebellations and offenses of a relatively few members of the bar who haunt the fringes of a noble profession and are false to its fiduciary standards; high time for all good citizens to realize and acclaim that the American system of administering justice according to law is the best and most characteristic of American institutions for the maintenance of liberty and human rights; and high time for the courts, lawyers, press, and public to work together to eradicate the faults from our judicial system and repel all attacks from those who seek to undermine it as first steps towards overthrow of the American form of government."

THE SEAFARING CAT

Right in the middle of the naval conference at London a sly attempt is being made to deny, or, at any rate, seriously to limit, the freedom of the seas to the oldest international traveler on record. An attack, in fine, has been directed against the ship's cat and this startling campaign, championed by no less an agency than the British ministry of agriculture and fisheries, apparently is gaining momentum. What the tabbies themselves think about it has not definitely been disclosed, although one or two close observers along the London docks are strongly of the impression that there is a distinct feline feeling of amazement at man's ingratitude.

Scientific research may have led to discovery of ways and means to rid ships of rats without the assistance of cats, but this does not seem to be the prime reason for the anti-cat movement on vessels flying the Union Jack. The enemies of puss cloak themselves in the guise of health-protectors, asserting that cats may, and in their opinion frequently do, act as carriers of diseases worse, perhaps, than rats and, therefore, must be sternly regulated, if not banished entirely from the waves.

AT LEAST ONE SUCCESS

Not all the ventures of government in business are doomed to failure. Ontario furnishes evidence of an opposite happening—although it may be the exception that proves the rule.

Under the guardianship of the Ontario province, the Dionne quintuplets are worth $24,000 each. It is expected that in about two years their combined wealth will reach $300,000. In addition, they have paid for the hospital in which they live, and met their current expenses. More than that, out of their earnings an allowance has been made to their parents, perhaps the first time on record that babes in arms have pensioned the old folks. Under the management of their guardians the quintuplets have been given opportunities in the movies. They are in receipt of royalties on calendars, postcards, coats, bonnets and dolls.

And, although Ontario may point with pride to its success in handling the affairs of the Dionne sisters, it must be admitted that the business is one in which there has been no competition. What would have happened had there been rival quintuplets nobody can say. The government of Ontario has enjoyed a monopoly.

When the fortune has been accumulated and the babes have reached the age when they should go to school, Ontario presumably will perform the duties of trustee instead of those of a business agent. The five famous sisters will present new problems. The government has succeeded in the management of their business affairs. How well will it play its part in the years to come?

PREJUDICES OR PRINCIPLES?

During the coming months there will be, as "General" Farley claims, a great deal of character defamation and mud-slinging. And as Farley does not say, both Republicans and Democrats will be guilty of this practice.

The people will pretty largely take one side or the other in the big scrap. Neutrals will be scarce. Indeed, even at present it is not a rare thing to see men of opposing parties on the verge of fistfights, especially if the principal debaters are reinforced with alcohol.

There will be a disposition in some quarters to ascribe prejudices to anyone and everyone, to the exclusion of principles. This is wrong. Is our faith so weak in our fellow-citizens that we do not permit them to hold differing views about politics without impugning their motives?

The issues are being drawn between the two great parties, and it should be possible for a citizen to choose his side without being accused of evil intentions.

The ruling faction of the Democratic party, or call it the New Deal, believes in extensions of the federal government into the states and into the heretofore private lives of the people, with a view to bettering the common life of us all by favors and subsidies to minorities, at the expense of the whole people.

It is entirely possible for a citizen to believe that the elimination of states' rights, as traditionally held in the United States, is the desirable program, and an essential feature to great centralization of power in Washington, D. C.

The Democrat who wishes to forsake Thomas Jefferson and go over to the doctrines of Alexander Hamilton, and to push the latter to the "nth" degree has a right to his position, without mud being thrown at him.

And a Republican is not necessarily a bloated plutocrat, or a hired emissary of the yacht-owning rich, because he believes in a nation of 48 states, each with definite constitutional rights, or because he honestly feels that in proportion to the growth of federal authority the individual shrinks in rights and importance.

8 Weeks For Hauptmann.
With 1,657 Diamonds.
When The Light Goes Out.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

HAUPTMANN, convicted of kidnapping and murdering the baby son of Col. Lindbergh, will not die as planned.

Gov. Hoffman at the last moment grants a 30-day reprieve for examination of new evidence or reviewing of evidence already heard, no definite reprieve given.

THE REPRIEVE means Hauptmann's execution is postponed for at least eight or nine weeks. After his 30 days reprieve, Hauptmann must be re-sentenced, for no less than four weeks later.

General opinion, taking Hauptmann's guilt for granted, following refusal of every possible appeal, is puzzled by the governor's action. Adverse criticism is restrained by the fact that granting a reprieve must undoubtedly be harmful to Gov. Hoffman politically.

A "MYSTERIOUS foreigner" paid $480,000 for the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick's emerald necklace, said to be the finest in the world, with emeralds as big as 100 karats. The foreigner bought a real necklace, with the 10 biggest emeralds properly spaced "on a rope fabricated of 1,657 diamonds."

The necklace was assessed at $1,000,000 for Mrs. McCormick's inheritance tax; depression explains today's price. Perhaps the "mysterious foreigner" will wait a while, come back and make a profit when our prosperity returns. It always does return.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU DON'T TALK ABOUT IT AT ONE TIME in my life I knew many soldiers, was one of them. And many were brave and many were truly patriotic. . . . And some of them talked of their bravery and some of them talked of their patriotism. . . . But the bravest of them did not talk of their bravery and those who loved their country, most devotedly did not say: "I love my country."

I have known simple, natural men who lived quietly and accomplished without words and with out gestures, deeds of strong endurance. . . . And what I remember most about them is that they did not talk about their best qualities. . . . Not one of them ever said: "I am a simple man."

I have known profoundly religious men and heard them talk about the faith that was theirs. I have seen them prove their faith in little facts and in great renunciations. . . . And never heard one of them say: "I am a religious man."

I have known unselfish men and women and some of their possessions, something of themselves, every day of their lives, richly unthinkingly. . . . The most selfless of them never said: "I am unselfish."

The best part of us lies deep and is expressed in action. We are who we are, and we cannot put it into words. If we try to do so, we stain it a little, we tarnish it. And when the finest part of man is forced to the surface, it stammers and is ashamed. It has no gift of fluent speech.

"Done!" he cried. And with that he stole carefully over to the corner where Joe Collier was dozing in the sun. The coast was clear! Now or never! And so—

How would it do to make marriage a one-year contract with a renewal if mutually satisfactory?

Answer—If your daughter has attained her 16th birthday, she is "Miss" and her calling cards should bear that title prefixed to her name. Therefore, if she is of that age, by all means have the engraver add "Miss" to her plate and have the cards done over.

Some single women omit the title before their names on their business cards, it being a matter of personal choice whether it should or should not be used on them. Married women, however, usually prefix their names with "Mrs." even on their business cards.

City Neutrality Dangers.
Observers Make Study.
Analyze AAA Decision.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE RICHIE
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—Can a blanket neutrality act work against the best interests of the United States?

Yes—in certain instances. At least, so says the Foreign Policy Association, which presents these interesting views of two of its observers, Allen W. Dulles and Hamilton Fish Armstrong.

"The American people may be ready to accept sacrifices of trade and profits where to continue trade would be to risk war. Certainly they should be. But they would not long tolerate a sweeping prohibition applied indiscriminately in situations where its necessity was not obvious. Many cases are conceivable in which a blanket embargo, crippling to our commerce and adding to unemployment, would not serve any directly useful purpose. Often, too, it might work injustice, as countries which had armed themselves to the teeth and which possessed raw materials and industries would automatically be given a decisive advantage over countries less well prepared and less well endowed by nature."

It is further pointed out that "foreign countries, faced with the prospect of sweeping embargo measures by the United States, would accelerate their present efforts to become completely self-sufficient, to the detriment of our remaining export trade and to the added confusion of international trade relations generally."

DANGEROUS FORCES

"Let us not forget," said Messrs. Dulles and Armstrong, "that in two parts of the world today forces are in motion which potentially are far more dangerous, so far as the maintenance of American peace goes, than an Italian war in Africa. Those who advocate permanent and mandatory legislation which would obligate the president when hostilities are in progress anywhere to stop the export of all materials susceptible of being used in military operations, should consider what would be the result of applying it in a conflict where Japan or Germany was a party and the United States was neutral."

"In the one case, the embargo would aid the extension of Japanese domination on the mainland of Asia, out off from foreign markets, China would be even more helpless to defend herself than she is today. In the other case it would prevent drawing on the American reservoir of food and other ordinary articles of commerce to check the possible aggression of a rearmied and imperialistic Germany determined to secure the hegemony of the continent."

In view of the disadvantages inherent in the automatic blanket embargo, the authors favor authorizing the president to institute an embargo whenever he thinks it would diminish the risk of war. They do not propose allowing him to discriminate between belligerents without the approval of congress.

They also are in favor of proclaiming the "trade at your own risk" policy in order to discourage shipments to belligerents and thus minimize the danger that the American government might become involved in disputes. "It is as broad a policy," they say, "as can be adopted in advance for application in unknown future contingencies."

FARMERS BENEFITED?

Went farmers benefited, after all, by the AAA?

No, says the Alexander Hamilton Institute, which adds that recovery of farm prices was based on world recovery, and that the AAA, in cutting down gross receipts actually deterred recovery.

The institute's bulletin goes on to say:

"The stoppage of benefit payments to the farmers will not curtail farm income since these payments did not provide the farmers with any greater income than they would have otherwise received. Inasmuch as the benefit payments were derived from processing taxes on farm products, the prices which the farmers received tended to be reduced by the amount of the taxes. In other words, the farmers received part of the price from marketings and part from the government instead of the full price from marketings as would have been the case without government interference."

PRICES VS. OUTPUT

The institute offers this conclusion:

"While the Agricultural Adjustment Act had practically no effect on the size of farm income it did tend to alter the composition of farm income. By the restriction of production, higher prices than those which otherwise would have been received were substituted for full output. Since the price level of farm products is reflected in the price level of manufactured goods, the prices of manufactured goods rose to a higher level than that which would have prevailed if farm income had been the result of a larger output at a lower price level."

"It is thus apparent that the only important effect on the Agricultural Adjustment Act was to depress the farmers' purchasing power and, in so doing, to retard general economic recovery. Consequently, the supreme court's decision, declaring the AAA unconstitutional, will not be detrimental to the farmers, but, on the contrary, will serve to make for better agricultural conditions and, in turn, for greater progress toward a complete revival of general business."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE WAY OF HER
As nearly as I now recall.
I've always done as people told me.
When I was but a youngster small.
I had to wear what salesmen sold me.
My mother and my doing aunts
Called me a little harem-scarem;
And though I hated velvet pants,
Persistently they made me wear 'em.

Plagued by the task of looking nice,
The sparks of rage began to smolder.
I'll scorn the women folks' advice
Some day, thought I, when I am older.
But as the years went speeding by,
Their care of me no whit abated,
Merely to please the women I
Kept right on wearing stuff I hated.

Then marriage came. At last it seemed
To please myself must now be lawful.
But Nellie looked at me and screamed:
"Your taste is positively awful!
Let me pick out your hats and ties."
And though the urge was strong to seize her
And stifle those incessant cries,
For thirty years I've dressed to please her.

I hope no longer to be free.
Man's life is as the Lord has planned.
Mothered by women he must be.
And now I think I understand it.
She'd hide his flaws at any price.
So great is her devotion to him.
She always wants him looking nice
When strangers, passing by, may view him.

Slippery Highway Cause Of Crash
In a crash on the Butler-New Castle road last night, $100 property damage resulted from a skidding vehicle. According to State Highway Patrolman H. C. Ross, who investigated, a truck driven by H. B. Gardner of Kansas City, Mo., and owned by the Monarch Freight System, was proceeding east on the highway. Following the truck was a new coach driven by Nathan L. Mayer of 244 Lincoln Parkway, Buffalo, N. Y.

Card Of Thanks
We wish to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy extended during our recent bereavement. Also for the generous floral tributes and cars donated.

traffic lights, went out; tallow candles sold at 50 cents apiece, many utilized match-light.

The "talkies" stopped talking, every picture became a "fadeout." Truckloads of policemen and guards were sent to public parks to protect those stranded in darkness.

Many, presumably, decided in the dark that they would not "go back" as far as candle light. No modern city could exist without electricity. We appreciate blessings when they vanish.

NEW YORK's school system seeks the 20 most intelligent boys and girls between 7 and 9 years of age, children with the highest "intelligence quotients."

The idea is to provide special high pressure for the 20 young marvels. Some well-informed, tell you that no worse disaster could befall a majority of the 20 than such intellectual "stuffing". Precocious intelligence does not necessarily mean superior ability later on, and it indicates need of rest, not of forcing.

YOU MIGHT teach a deerhound or wolfhound puppy to turn back somersaults, walk on its front legs and climb a ladder, but it would not be useful for hunting, and hunting is its business.

Prematurely to develop a young mind, packing an immature brain with unnecessary "knowledge" means, usually, to make it unfit for the real work of a man.

RUSSIA, with proud delight, says she has the world's biggest standing army, but she will remember that bigness is not everything.

Alexander, with a handful of men, routed the great armies and elephant lines of Persia; Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, with 12,000 men, walked through the armies of Poland and the bigger armies of Peter the Great.

An army, big or little, depends on the leader. In the next war, success will depend on a leader able to use machine guns and submarines. With the right airplanes, explosives and poison gas, men as good as Capt. Rickenbacker might worry any army.

HUMAN NATURE takes unpleasant forms. Victims in the latest airplane crash were found with pockets and pockets empty, one man was seen to take a roll of bills from a dead man's pocket and flee through the swamp.

Destruction of the plane was due to the fact that the plane, going 180 miles an hour, ploughed for 400 yards through a heavy growth of trees. The disaster will not discourage flying, but it will hasten the arrival of the "foolproof", automatic safe plane. Men always do what they must do.

MOST DISQUIETING in connection with this airplane disaster is evidence supplied by instruments carried by the plane. They prove that the pilots had no idea they were about to crash, had not slowed down for a landing, since the plane was going 180 miles, three times the landing speed. All being dead, the mystery will never be completely solved.

With two pilots in charge, the plane apparently was within 100 feet of the ground, neither pilot knowing it.

IN 1935, ENGLAND sent us 17 per cent less hard liquor than in 1934. Interesting to American advertising agents and publishers is the fact that energetic, ingenious and convincing advertising seems to have turned the public taste from "Scotch" and "Irish" to homemade whiskies.

MAYOR LAGUARDIA promises to do something about racketeering that preys upon business men, big and little, to the tune of hundreds of millions a year in New York.

The mayor finds that convictions are difficult, sometimes because witnesses are afraid, sometimes because magistrates act queerly, often because criminals have plenty of money and know how to buy what they want.

THE CHINESE general Feng Yu-Hsiang, who used to be called the "Christian general", has a "plan to help China's fight against Japan."

He asks Chinese men to cut one foot of the bottoms of their long gowns, save money, and also wear clothing without buttons, "turning the buttons into bullets". The country, he says, can save on buttons enough in one year to buy 400,000-000 bullets.

The difficulty is that Japan would probably hear of that and take them.

YOU MAY soon buy cheap Panama hats. A commercial Japanese mission has gone to Ecuador to buy up the fibre of which Panama hats are made, for export to Japan. Hat weavers in Ecuador protest against exportation of the fibre, saying they cannot compete with Japanese manufacturing methods.

Bishop Of Erie Is Coming Here Sunday

Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., To Give Annual Message At Trinity Church

The visitation for confirmation and to give his annual message to the parish will be made tomorrow evening by the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of Erie, to Trinity church at 7:30 o'clock. To this service, the Rev. Samuel M. Black and all of the people under his care at St. Andrew's, New Castle, and St. Luke's, Ellwood City, have been invited. It is expected that a large congregation will greet the bishop, and all who have been confirmed by him as well as the whole membership of the church will desire to welcome the new class into full membership. A specially selected musical program has been prepared by the senior choir under the leadership of Miss Isabel T. Johnson, organist.

After the service, in accordance with a telegram received by the Rev. Philip C. Pearson on Thursday, the bishop will meet the clergy, the wardens and vestrymen of Trinity, and the officials of St. Andrew's in the Guild room of Trinity church for a conference.

School Music Group Meets Again Monday

New Civic Association Will Complete Its Formal Organization

A constitution and by-laws will be adopted at a future music event discussed at the second meeting of the Citizens and Parents Music Association in the auditorium of Senior high school on Monday evening, January 20 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Joseph F. Replogle, president, announced today.

At the meeting the organization's board of directors will be closed and plans will be discussed for a gala benefit tea for the association on February 6.

At 8 sharp the uniformed American Legion band with director Joseph Replogle, leading, will play a group of Stephen Foster selections for the entertainment of the audience.

Revival meetings will be opened Sunday night at the Highland Heights Gospel Tabernacle, with Rev. E. F. Zook is pastor, of which Rev. D. N. Scott, of New Brighton as the evangelist.

The services will be continued every night except Saturday.

NIMRODIAN CLUB MEMBERS TO DINE
Members of the Nimrodian club will enjoy a roast pig dinner with all the trimmings in the club rooms, Greer building, Sunday.

Thomas Newcomen steam-engine to repair. Joe Roebuck, the iron-monger who financed the building of the first Watt steam engine, went bankrupt, and not one of his creditors considered the machine which brought about his ruin worth a penny.

Jan. 19, 1807.—Robert Edward Lee was born in Westmoreland County, Va., 15 months after his mother had been entombed. Physicians had pronounced her dead of an illness which had kept her abed for two years. Her funeral was held and her body placed in the Lee mausoleum. (Embalming wasn't practiced in those days). When a servant entered the tomb a few days later to place fresh flowers on the casket, he heard a faint cry. He called for help, the casket was opened, and Mrs. Lee was revived. The shock of being buried alive actually had a favorable effect on her health as she recovered sufficiently to bear the child who was to become the great leader of the Confederacy.

Jan. 19, 1848.—Gold was discovered in California, on lands of Col. John H. Sutter, by James W. Wicks. Neither ever profited from the discovery and both died poor men.

You're wrong if you believe gold was first discovered in the United States in California. It had been mined in North Carolina for years previously.

It's True—August LeComte, who was born 138 years ago Saturday, wrote a six-volume encyclopedia of science while confined in an asylum as a madman. It is read today for its literary merits, as is his classic "Calendar of Great Men."

Verdict Is Awarded For $9,625 Damages

Mrs. Maybelle D. Ringer Wins
Suit Against The Penn-
Ohio Coach Lines

The jury in the case of Maybelle D. Ringer against the Penn-Ohio Coach Line Company and G. C. Denniston, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and against the Coach Lines Company for $9,625. In the case of G. C. Denniston, added defendant, the jury found that there had been no negligence on his part.

Suit was brought by Mrs. Ringer for the death of her husband, Harry M. Ringer, in an automobile accident on the New Castle-New Bedford road a short distance west of New Bedford. Ringer was a guest in the car of G. C. Denniston, when the Denniston car was skidded and stopped crosswise of the road while in this position it was struck by the bus and Ringer killed.

G. C. Denniston was made an added defendant in the suit on the allegation that there had been negligence on his part. The verdict of the jury is that there was no negligence. The verdict is one of the largest awarded in a local automobile case for some time.

Sacramento River Near Flood Stage

Town Of Butte City Is Already
Inundated By Rising
Waters

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 18.—Swollen to near flood stage by melting snows, washed down the mountainside by recent rains, the Sacramento river today had leaped levees above Colusa, flooding the town of Butte City.

More than 200 residents of the town were marooned. The town was under water, averaging in depth from three to five feet.

CCC and PWA workers aided by volunteer farmers were rescuing the marooned residents in rowboats.

The weather bureau forecasted clear skies for the week end lower temperatures in the mountain regions, insuring relief from further flood waters since the melting snow pack will be frozen.

Students Speaking At Calvary Church

On Friday evening a large crowd gathered at Calvary Presbyterian church where special evangelistic services are being conducted nightly until January 26.

After a spirited congregational hymn sing and a number of vocal selections, Thomas King, of the Davis Memorial Bible Institute, Birmingham, N. Y., delivered a most interesting sermon on "Christ's Redeeming Love," taken from the story of the Good Samaritan.

Tonight Miss Malinda Walker, another student of the institute, will speak.

Sunday morning Miss Ruby Zeigler will be heard at the regular church service, and at the regular evening worship period three students will be in charge.

Meetings will be conducted next week, through the 26th and Rev. H. H. Wagner, teacher of Bible doctrine and prophecy at Davis Memorial Institute, will be the speaker each night at 7:30 o'clock. He will also give lectures every afternoon beginning Tuesday at 2:30.

Says "Hand" Is That Of Animal

The mystery of the "human" hand brought into the farm of John Dubranski, of Pulaski township by a dog, has been solved. It isn't a human hand at all, it's the paw or foot of some animal.

In a diagnostic report given to the district attorney, Mont L. Alley, by Dr. W. W. Bissell, managing director of the Jameson Memorial hospital, Dr. Bissell says "the conclusion is inescapable that this is the paw or foot of some animal."

Several days ago a dog belonging to Mr. Dubranski on the New Wilmington-Pulaski road brought what appeared to be a human hand into the farm. Mr. Dubranski took it into New Wilmington where it was said that it appeared to be a female left hand. District Attorney Alley turned it over to Dr. Bissell for examination and his report followed.

Suit Over Note Is Before The Court

The case of the Peoples' National Bank of Ellwood City against Howard Johnston, is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers today. Johnston was surety on a note of $1000 with O. E. Bartell, now deceased. Later he went on a replacement note with Bartell's widow, Harriet M. Bartell. When this note was replaced Johnston did not go on the new note with Mrs. Bartell. When this last note was not paid the note on which Johnston was surety was filed. The case before the court follows a petition to open judgment.

Transfer Man Is Swindle Victim

Joseph Blacky Is Swindled Out
Of Life Savings Of
$1,500

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Jan. 18.—City, county and state authorities spread a dragnet today for two unidentified men who worked the so-called "confidence" racket on unsuspecting Joseph Blacky, transfer, and relieved him of $1,500 of his savings.

The paper package which was supposed to have contained his money as well as that of the strangers to be shared with some "honest man" turned out to contain a dollar bill and numerous pieces of paper the same size.

No funeral arrangements have as yet been made for Samuel Stewart, of 2114 East Fourteenth street, Cleveland, O., who died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at noon yesterday. An effort is being made to contact relatives. Stewart had been staying at the Lawrence county home before he was taken to the hospital.

Pandro S. Berman Sends Message

Producer Of "I Dream Too Much" Is Former New Castle Resident

New Castle's Junior Guild was praised for its sponsorship of Lily Pons' new picture "I Dream Too Much", in a telegram from Pandro S. Berman, producer of the Metropolitan Opera star's cinema production and one who hails New Castle as his home town.

Mr. Berman's father owned a shoe store here some years ago.

The Junior Guild sponsored last night's showing at the Penn theatre of the film, the proceeds of which will go to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Berman's telegram follows: "Am happy and grateful you are sponsoring special premiere performance of Lily Pons starring picture, 'I Dream Too Much'. Miss Pons gives superb performance. In my career as producer I have never been associated with a more gifted artist or more charming personality. Am particularly happy Jameson Memorial hospital will benefit from your generous action. Congratulations and thanks from one proud to claim New Castle as home town."

Rescue Three From Ice Cake

(International News Service)

OSTERVILLE, Mass., Jan. 18.—Three men, adrift on an ice cake a mile out to sea, were alive today because one of them staked his life on the agility of his feet.

The men were Eugene Coleman, Clarence Crosby and Henry Cobb all Hyannis eel fishermen.

The ice broke away from shore while they were fishing. They kept drifting a mile from shore the cake began to break up.

Cobb, leaping from cake to cake, finally made his way back to land. He roused residents who set out in a row boat. Coleman and Crosby were so exhausted they had to be carried from the ice.

Pushing Plans For President's Ball

Plans for the President's Ball on January 30, to be held in the Cathedral were furthered on Friday night January 17 when a meeting of committee chairmen was held in the office of General Chairman Clarence A. Patterson.

The plans this year include cards for those who do not care to dance and a number of acts of entertainment. The proceeds of the ball will be divided three ways. Seventy per cent of the proceeds will be divided equally between the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle Hospitals. Thirty per cent of the proceeds will go to the national committee for use in the Warm Springs Foundation.

CLUB MEETING

Members of the C. E. club were entertained at the home of the Misses Camella and Lena Trivlino on Thursday night.

The evening was spent in social chat and kensington, with a dainty lunch served by the hostesses.

At the conclusion, Miss Camella Fidell was presented with a beautiful birthday token.

The club will meet with Miss Flora Maletta in two weeks.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Abe Caplan was a delightful hostess when she entertained the U. Deal club at her home last night.

Four tables of bridge were in play during the evening and at the close, Mrs. M. Mervin won first prize and Mrs. L. Weinstein second high.

During the social hour the ladies planned a theatre party to be at a near date.

At the conclusion, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

The evangelistic services being conducted each night at the First Pentecostal Mission by the well known Walter Paul Shepherd of St. Petersburg, Fla., have been very successful.

Each night finds a full house and sermons of great interest. Arrangements are being made for the gospel rally tonight which promises to climax all others previously.

Justice to Resign?

Justice Van Devanter

The fact that Justice Willis Van Devanter has been in ill health for some time and that the 77-year-old jurist recently purchased a farm near Ellicott City, Md., has led Washington observers to believe that Van Devanter soon may tender his resignation to the White House. It is also pointed out that if the oldest member of the court in years of service should resign and be replaced by a liberal, congressional agitation for restriction of supreme court powers might be dropped. Van Devanter has been dean of conservatives on the bench.

War Veterans Group Installs

Frank Concilia Inducted As Commander Of Italian-American Veterans

HEAR ADDRESS OF CLEVELAND MAN

Officers of the Italian-American World War veterans association were formally installed at their meeting last evening in King Humbert Hall, Division street, with a large attendance of the membership.

Captain Tito De Martino, of Cleveland, Ohio, who served in the United States Air forces during the World War, and who is commander of the Italian-American World War Veterans of Ohio, acted as installing officer.

After the installation ceremony, Commander Frank Concilia called upon each of the officers for brief remarks.

Capt. De Martino then delivered an inspiring address in which he outlined the reasons why all veterans who served during the World War should associate themselves together.

Lists Committees
They should do this to consecrate and sanctify their comradeship by their devotion to mutual helpfulness, to make the acquaintance of comrades they should know; to foster genuine, wholesome comradeship; to stimulate a desire to be of service in their community; state and above all, to be a big-hearted, broadminded comrade.

The officers installed were: Commander—Frank Concilia. Vice Commander—Andy Venditto. Junior Vice Commander—Carm Sacco.

Adjutant—Vitus Conti. Financial Secretary—Tom Beatrice.

Treasurer—Tony Sacco. Trustees—Anthony Aiello, Pasquale Damiano, and Mario Frabotta. Officer-of-Day—Peter Rumano. Chaplain—Frank Mastrangelo. Guard—Odone Devitto. Color Bearers—Tommy Long and Joe Milito.

Color Guards—Charles Maciarello and Dominic Micie.

The following standing committees were announced by Commander Concilia:

K. P. committee—John Bullano, Charles Maciarello, Giuseppe Morretti. Grievance—Felix Conti, Ben Iannaccone, Tommy Long.

Relief—Nick Perri, Antonio Latanzio and Tony Sacco.

An interesting program is being arranged for the next regular meeting to take place on Thursday, February 5, in King Humbert Hall.

Not Chairman, No! But Needy Continue To Get His Counsel

Three years ago today Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, upon the appointment of the then Governor Gifford Pinchot, became chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board—that was the volunteer board of citizens first created to handle the growing problem of relief locally.

Today, if you counted the callers at his church at home, you would think he still is chairman. But he's not.

Resigning from the chairmanship last June didn't check to any great extent the daily stream of strangers who turn his way for counsel, the minister said today. But he doesn't care—he meets them as a personal advisor just as always.

"No, I talk to as many as I can," the well-known pastor told a reporter who asked him if he continues to receive them. "I still can give them personal advice."

The relief task is directly administered here now by Director James W. Morehead and his staff. Early in the relief period Dr. Bennett guided it almost alone.

Dr. Bennett continues as vice chairman of the board of administration for Relief Area No. 10, the district centering here.

CONDITION OF KING GEORGE V GROWS WORSE

the king's personal physicians who were at his bedside throughout the night, and fourth is one of Europe's greatest heart specialists, rushed here from London today as the king's difficulty in breathing put a severe strain on a none-too-strong heart.

This afternoon's bulletin bore out fears the monarch is in danger. A bulletin issued this morning, although not noting any improvement from last night's serious condition, likewise did not state the king had grown worse.

The threat to the king's life, felt by the public but not admitted by the doctors lay in the possibility that breathing would become so taxed beyond its powers.

Gloom In Nation
This latest bulletin plunged the nation into gloom. It was coupled with almost simultaneous announcement that the king's two young granddaughters the princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, children of the Duke and Duchess of York, were being sent away from Sandringham to London.

They were told simply that "grandfather is very ill."

While the children were put out of the way, adult members of the royal family rushed to the monarch's bedside as they have not done since that tense winter of seven years ago. All who were able hurried here.

An atmosphere of grave solemnity prevailed.

This afternoon's bulletin was the most discouraging news issued up to that time. Each succeeding announcement since yesterday, when the king's condition became serious, has wither announced no improvement or indicated plainly he was growing worse.

Heart Action Weaker
The term "embarrassment of circulation" was interpreted to mean the heart action was weaker and this was seen as a bad sign.

The two little princesses, hardly aware of the crisis about them, left Sandringham house for Wolverton station smiling. At that very moment the king's doctors were writing their grave bulletin.

The princess royal and her husband the Earl of Harewood, arrived after a rush trip from their York shire home. The princess immediately upon her arrival went to the room of her mother, the queen, with whom she had a long talk before seeing the king.

Queen Mary had sat throughout the morning in the sick room, where she was personally supervising arrangements for the king's funeral.

Outside the great red brick mansion gathered a solemn crowd, including many farm laborers, villagers, and about 70 newspapermen. They watched anxiously as a servant pinned up the 3:30 p. m. bulletin on the great iron gates, which barred all but official parties from the grounds.

Prince Of Wales Present
The Prince of Wales rushed here yesterday and cancelled plans to return to London today. The Duke of York was here, and the Duchess was absent only because she still was recovering from an attack of grippe at Windsor.

A sum of money estimated at $24,000, which had previously been appropriated for materials for WPA jobs was by ordinance returned to general revenue. However, it was explained today that all bills for the materials had not been paid up to January 6.

A sum of the bills which has come in lately has cut down this amount, it was said by Finance Director James L. Fink today. He added that so far councilmen have not yet time to give deep study to the proposal that 10 per cent in wages be returned to employees.

BLAZE OCCURS
IN SEVENTH WARD
Seventh ward firemen were called to the home of J. M. Frew, of 609 North Cedar street, at 10:20 last evening, when a fire which started in a clothes closet, caused damage of around $35. Toys belonging to the children had been stored in the closet.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

V-18 TO MEET AT 7

Members of Troop V-18 of the Highland U. P. church will gather for their weekly meeting on Tuesday evening, January 21 at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30. Scribe Donald Woodworth announced today. The Seasonal meeting of the boys will commence at 8:30.

Wages for labor having been standardized through ordinance at the suggestion of Councilman B. F. Butler other city employees are wondering if the plans advocated during the compilation of the budget for a restoration of 10 percent in wages to other employees will be completed.

A sum of money estimated at $24,000, which had previously been appropriated for materials for WPA jobs was by ordinance returned to general revenue. However, it was explained today that all bills for the materials had not been paid up to January 6.

A sum of the bills which has come in lately has cut down this amount, it was said by Finance Director James L. Fink today. He added that so far councilmen have not yet time to give deep study to the proposal that 10 per cent in wages be returned to employees.

Being Dry May Aid Republican

May Be Important Issue In Presidential Campaign Next Fall

LANDON WILL BENEFIT MOST

Central Press Washington Bureau, 1900 S. Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Republican leaders are considering the possibility that wet-and-dry sentiment will weigh appreciably in deciding votes at next November's election.

And Democratic leaders are considering the possibility that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's personality will be an issue of some consequence to a certain class of voters. It seems like a ridiculous idea, but not a few political diagnosticians surmise that womanhood to no small extent, will cast its ballots for or against the "first lady" rather than for or against her husband.

Prohibition will not be mentioned at the Republican convention, nor will Mrs. Roosevelt's personality be referred to at the Democratic gathering. It is on election day that the respective leaderships believe the divergent trends—dry versus wet; pro-Mrs. Roosevelt and contra-Mrs. Roosevelt—may manifest themselves of course they will be secondary to the "pro" and "anti" New Deal trends, but in the event of a close New Deal fight, statisticians are of the opinion that they perhaps will have quite a bit of significance.

LANDON HELPED Governor Landon's scouts, questioning Washington politicians concerning their candidate's chances, have asked, again and again, "Will it be in Alf's favor or contrariwise that he is a son of the arid state of Kansas?"

Most prognosticators appear to believe that his commonwealth's dryness will help more than it will hurt the sunflower realm's governor.

The reason thusly: "Wets will feel that prohibition repeal is too young to be reversed within the administration of a single president—even a two-term. There fore, if they are inclined to vote for him, they will vote for him anyway. But drys, still nursing with resentment at repeal with President Roosevelt's sanction (the states did the ratifying but Roosevelt will be blamed by ardent prohibitionists) are likely to rally to a dry national candidate."

Senator Borah's dry record also is spoken of, but Borah's record is so miscellaneous that he doesn't stand out so sharply as a dry as does Landon, the Kansan.

A CHANCY SUBJECT

The feminine attitude toward Mrs. Roosevelt is a chancy subject to speculate on.

It is well known in Washington, however, that the Democratic high command has long wished that the first lady wouldn't "talk so much." Indeed, she doesn't talk so much as she did, but she still is fairly talkative.

The thing culminated several months ago, when a Miss Margaret Ijams, of Berkeley (Cal.) refused to preside as head of an organization of alumnae at a Pacific coast dinner to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. Mrs. Roosevelt, taking Secretary Perkins' part, answered Miss Ijams pretty crisply. Miss Ijams replied that Mrs. Roosevelt was a "headline seeker."

At a venture I asked my women readers for their comment, as between Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ijams.

I got a basketful of letters.

HOW LETTERS AVERAGED

They were about 90 per cent pro-Mrs. Ijams.

And, of the 90 per cent, an overwhelming proportion were vigorously anti-Mrs. Roosevelt.

These letters were mainly from that group of women described as "housewives."

These women have votes next November.

It's our own fault if Japan wins. Every great civilization has ruined itself by teaching heathen how to lick it.

On Court House Hill

To date County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland has issued 1988 dog licenses. This would indicate that there are about two thirds of the dogs in the county still without licenses.

William Walton, who was recently appointed mercantile appraiser, is ready to start upon his new duties. He has been held up through failure to receive some papers from Harrisburg, a mistake having been made in his address. He will visit all the stores and business places in the county. The amount of the mercantile tax is estimated on the business done.

Statement of claim has been filed in a suit of Luigi and Marie Cardullo against the County of Lawrence for damages on account of changes made on the New Castle-New Bedford road in the Youngstown hill district. Cardullo claims that a well was ruined and that the water has drained from the highway over his land. He asks for $4,000 damages.

When the Democratic national convention meets in Philadelphia in June it will be the first time that the national convocation of that party has ever been held in the state. Although one of the most important political states in the nation, the Keystone state has had only five national conventions of major parties. The first and most historic to date was that held in Harrisburg when William Henry Harrison for president, and John Tyler for vice president, under the colorful and historic famous slogan, "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too."

In 1848, the Whigs met again in Pennsylvania, but chose Philadelphia, where they nominated Zachary Taylor, and Millard Fillmore as their candidates. The next major political convention was held in Philadelphia in 1856. On that occasion, the first Republican convention, John C. Fremont and William L. Day were nominated for president and vice president, with Abraham Lincoln running second to Day. Philadelphia entertained the state's fourth convention in 1872 when the Republicans nominated U. S. Grant and Henry Wilson. In 1900 the Republicans returned to Philadelphia to name William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt as their candidates. Next June 23rd when the Democrats assemble in the Quaker City, the state will celebrate its sixth major political convention.

Mary Tordy, of Bessemer has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Anton Tordy, on the grounds of desertion. They were married in 1922. Mr. Tordy is now said to be in Cleveland, O., and Sheriff Pritchard will give notice of the application by publication.

M. C. and Emma Smith, of Union township, have filed a suit against the county of Lawrence in which they ask for $1000 damages as a result of the improvement of the New Castle-New Bedford road. It is claimed that about 8½ feet of their land and a tree were taken. M. C. Smith has filed a second suit in which he charges that the grade of the road was raised so that the cellar of his home will not drain, and about 8½ feet of his land was taken. He wants $1500 damages in this suit.

Justice William T. Schaffer of the Supreme court of Pennsylvania, recently handed down an opinion in which he held that newspapers are the best medium of giving information to the public. Handbills, the justice declared, are a poor medium. The opinion was given in a West Norriton township, Montgomery county case involving the advertising of a sewer bond issue, which had been done by handbills because there was no newspaper published in the township. It was held that a newspaper, published in an adjoining township, and circulating in West Norriton, should have been used. The judges said, "Provisions as to publication of notices are most important under present day conditions. Handbills are a poor medium for conveying information to the electors."

County Commissioners expect to take up consideration of a budget for the ensuing year at their meeting next week. County Controller Frank W. Hill has been compiling figures, showing what the different departments cost during 1935. This will be used as a guide in determining the probable cost of running the county for 1936. One of the problems to figure out is just how much will be needed to run the poor department.

The Pennsylvania Real Estate Association is contending that the commonwealth owes the school districts of the state the $25,000,000 appropriated to them in the companion bill to the unconstitutional state income tax law. The Ziesenheim act, to which the real estate dealers refer, appropriated to the schools, $25,000,000, which was the anticipated income tax law. This act, they maintain, is in force and effect even though the courts wiped out the means by which money was to be raised.

The income tax proceeds, under the plan, were to go directly to reduce local school taxes. Attorney General Margiotti has taken the position that inasmuch as there will be no proceeds under the income tax law, there will be no funds to distribute under the Ziesenheim act. But the real estate association insists that the commonwealth is obligated to find that $25,000,000 and must pay. Apparently there is little chance that the move will be successful, but the action of the real estate association will serve to stimulate the state wide agitation for a shift of the burden of taxation from real estate to personal property.

Charles E. Ketterer, receiver of the Citizens Bank of Ellwood City, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against J. Ralph Little, and Lawrence Barnhart, doing business as Little and Barnhart, to recover on a note for $700 with interest amounting to $36.84.

Agent's Mother Is 96; Health Fine!

Mrs. Amanda Hossler Finds Life Thrilling And Getting Better

Over in Middlebranch, O., in the Canton district, Mrs. Amanda Hossler, the 96-year-old mother of John H. Hossler, local ticket agent for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, watches the trends of the modern day—the speed and all—and believes that "they are making the world a better place in which to live."

Mrs. Hossler was 96 last week. Mrs. Hossler was born when Martin Van Buren was in the White House, and throughout her home district she is well known. In good health, she lives at Middlebranch with a son, Edgar, and his wife. Four of her five sons and three daughters still are living. She is grandmother to 21 children and a great-grandmother to four.

AROUND CITY HALL

Every Tuesday and Thursday between the hours of 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. State troopers will take over the duties of city police according to Mayor Charles E. McGrath. While the city police are in training school the troopers will keep the city free from any disorder.

James Mayberry will be re-appointed mercantile appraiser for the city of New Castle according to Finance Director James L. Fink, who recommended and had appointed A. C. Shoad as city assessor yesterday. Fink also said that Miss Lillian Perry, deputy in his office, would retain her position.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath has not yet abandoned a proposal that young men between the ages of 22 and 25 be given WPA employment, for 10 hours each week, protecting children enroute to and from school and also along sledriding lanes. Many young boys, just out of school are capable, responsible and need employment according to the mayor.

Employment In State Gains, Is Shown By Figures

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—Employment in Pennsylvania during 1935 was about six per cent higher than in 1934 and payrolls last year were 17 per cent above those for the year before, the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank reported today. "Estimates made from the current indices and census data," the bank's statement said, "show that all Pennsylvania factories in December employed approximately 350,000 wage earners and paid in wages $17,554,000."

Joe Louis Kayoes Retzlaff In First Round In Chicago

Official Time Is One Minute And 25 Seconds, Crowd Disappointed

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The rapidly growing society for the advancement of Joe Louis today numbered among its more distinguished members the gaunt, but wiser person of Charley Retzlaff, a plow hand from Leonard, North Dakota.

It took Retzlaff one minute and twenty-five seconds of the first round to qualify last night at the Chicago stadium to the mingled chagrin of some 15,000 patrons who had paid fancy prices to view the initiation.

Braddock Next
It was the uncrowned heavyweight champion's twenty-third knockout in 27 engagements and just another signal to Max Schmeling and Jimmy Braddock, whose applications for membership in the society will be considered at the earliest possible date.

Retzlaff was knocked colder than a mortician's workshop. He never had a chance in the face of the somewhat bored tan destroyer who seemed even more casual about the matter than his opponent. The one note of variation to the slaughter, however, was the cool indifference of Retzlaff once he had entered the ring. This was in marked contrast to the shaking fright of the Messrs. Baer, Levinsky and camera on the occasion of their initiation to the society.

Louis Punches Fast
At the outset, they sparred briefly while Louis measured his man with the cool calculation of an embalmer. A light left flicked the plow boy's adam's apple, whereupon he flung a right hand that was a little short of its mark, but dynamite in its flight.

The blow didn't even change Louis' expression. Retzlaff, sensing something of an advantage, then took it upon himself to close in. That was fatal. Like the fang of a cobra, Louis' left found its mark. It was a left hook that momentarily staggered Retzlaff and then sprawled him on the canvas.

Retzlaff Dazed
Referee Phil Collins counted eight over the stricken man before Retzlaff came up. Regaining his feet, he stood in a daze and feeling very bad for fully a second before the import of the situation dawned on him. But he was doomed. Louis, moving like a Panther, slid inside and pumped two lefts and two rights to Retzlaff's chin. Another right that carried the full weight of homicide crashed against the victim's chin and Charley was down again. At this point, Retzlaff made a futile attempt to regain his feet, but fell back to come up no more.

Over Very Quickly
There was little cheering at the conclusion of the bout. The majority of the spectators stood in stunned amazement at the spectacle of a 21-year-old Negro whose world championship was so complete that it left no doubt of his superb craftsmanship.

It was obvious from the outset that Louis was determined to dispose of Retzlaff at the earliest moment. He had heard some loose conversation about his opponent's right hand and was taking no chances.

A he-man is one who always feels as an office boy when he puts on high laced boots.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Officials of the Louisville club and businessmen will meet tonight at Louisville to determine plans for continuation of the team in the American Association. The club has been beset with financial woes and efforts will be directed toward having the club operate under Louisville capital. Should this be arranged, probabilities are Burleigh Grimes, former pitcher, may be named manager, according to Captain William Neal, general manager of the club.

As expected, Charlie Retzlaff did not last long with Joe Louis at Chicago last night. Most fans did not believe the North Dakotan would last through three rounds.

Ernie Nevers will coach Lafayette next season, according to Henry W. Clark, director of athletics. The former star at Stanford was selected from 100 applicants.

Inquiry into an alleged boxing scandal at New York has collapsed. A. J. Feinberg, editor of the "Ring," admitted to the commission Friday he could not produce proof of his accusation that Louis Beck, chief inspector, had associated with gamblers at New York fight clubs.

Union Defeats Mars High 19-11

Union Wins Section 18 League Game, Ostrosky And Wotowitz Stars Of Battle

Union High School basketball team defeated Mars High last night at the Mars High floor 19 to 11 for the second victory of the season in Section 18. Ostrosky and Wotowitz gave the Union victory with 12 of the points between them.

Coaches Boyd and Rudolph hit upon a new idea last night that worked like a charm. The varsity team played the first half and ran up a count of 11 to 7, and then a whole new team played the third and fourth periods for Union and came through with a fine account of themselves winning the half from Mars 8 to 4.

Ostrosky was the high point man with eight points, while Wotowitz made four free throws. The Unionists played a fine brand of basketball last night and defensively held the Mars boys to three field goals.

In the preliminary game the Union High girls defeated the Mars High girls 33 to 9.

Keystones Will Play Youngstown

The Keystone A. C. basketball team will go to Youngstown, Ohio, tonight to meet the Elite Five in what should be a first class tilt. The Elite five is composed of former high school and college stars.

Coach A. A. "Coots" Venditto will have his strongest lineup ready to play the Ohiotons tonight. The players are asked to meet at the club rooms on South Jefferson street at 9:30 o'clock sharp.

Presbyterians To Play K. Pulaskis
The First Presbyterians church basketball team will play the K. Pulaski quintet at the Y. M. C. A. floor Monday night. It was announced by Coach Dr. Harry C. Prugh, Jr. today. The game will start at 10 o'clock, being the third game on the program.

The Presbyterians have been asked to meet with Coach Prugh at his office at 7 o'clock Monday night.

Shenango Trims East Brook, 17-14

Exciting Tilt Is Enacted At East New Castle Floor On Friday Night

SHENANGO GIRLS ALSO WIN, 19-15

Flashing an attack that somewhat baffled their opponents, Shenango high school basketball team upset the dope bucket by capturing a 17-14 triumph over East Brook high. Section 22 leaders. The contest was played at Shenango floor, Friday night.

Close guarding on the part of both quintets featured the fracas. Shenango held East Brook to three field goals and annexed six buckets. East Brook took a 4-1 lead in the first quarter. Finnegan sent the ball through the hoops and Hall and Shuller made good foul tries for the four markers. Shenango came back fighting like wildcats in the second period, holding their foes scoreless while they garnered eight points. Lysko, Werusuk and Pitzer sent the ball through their opponents' nets and Tanner made good two foul tries.

An inspired East Brook five took the floor for the third period. Waddington found the hoops for a goal followed by Kendall who duplicated. A foul apiece by Hall and Finnegan gave East Brook a 10-9 lead. Before the end of the quarter, Tanner sank a pretty basket and Werusuk made good a charity toss to give the Shenango team a 12-10 advantage. Pitzer, for Shenango, was ejected via the four personal foul rule.

Irvine, who replaced Pitzer, gave an excellent account of himself, sinking two field goals to keep Shenango on top. Shuller and Waddington stepped the foul line for East Brook's thirteenth and fourteenth point. The contest proved one of the most exciting played at Shenango this season. Shenango played good basketball, with Tanner standing out. Waddington was best for East Brook.

In the preliminary contest, the Shenango girls annexed another victory to their list by scoring a 19-15 triumph over East Brook maidens. Captain Clark, for Shenango, was outstanding, scoring 17 out of 19 points for her team.

Three Tied For Sectional Lead

East Brook, Shenango And Wampum Tied For Section 22 Leadership
Three teams are tied for the leadership of Section 22 of the W. P. I. A. L. today. East Brook High following the setback last night at the hands of Shenango High finds itself tied with Shenango and Wampum for the lead. All of the teams won two victories and one defeat apiece. There are no Section 22 league games on tap, for next week, which means a deadlocked league for another week or two at least.

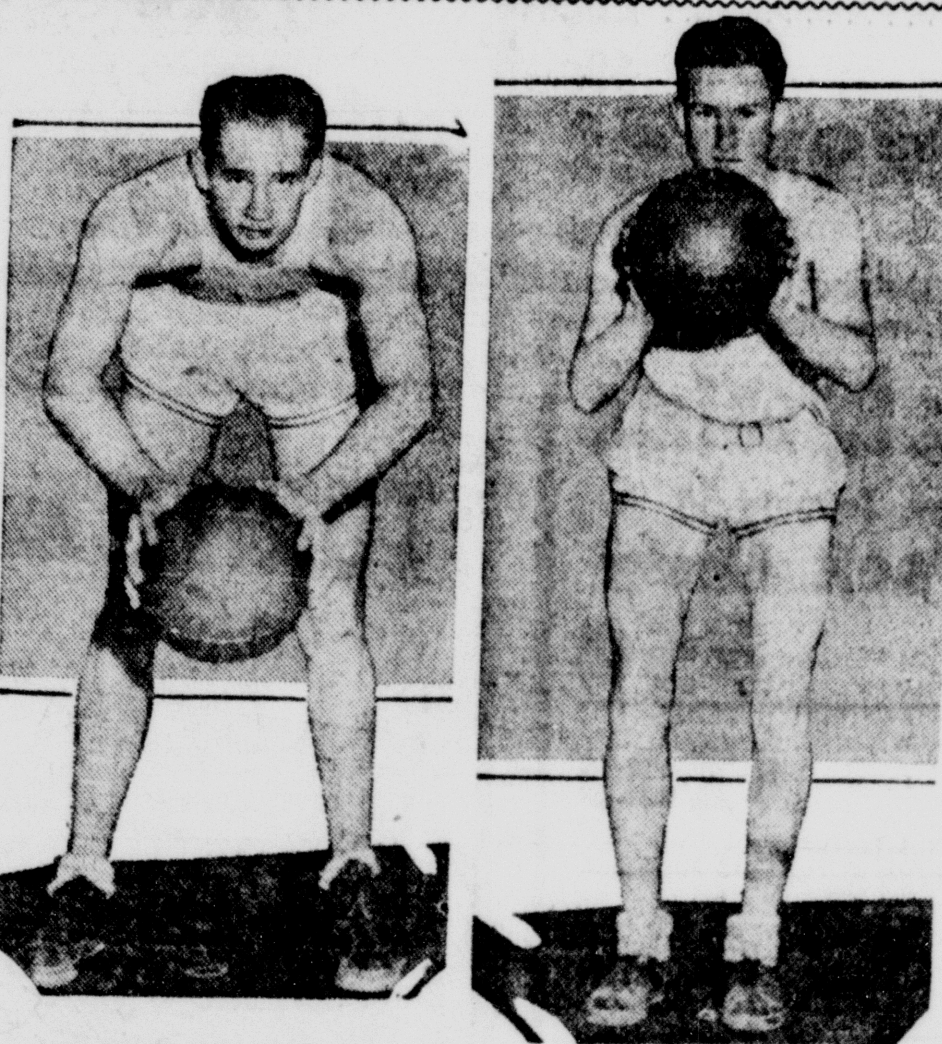

The correct standing of the league including games last night:
W. L. Pct.
East Brook 2 1 .666
Shenango 2 1 .666
Wampum 2 1 .666

Louis Will Get $25,000 For His Chicago Battle
Charley Retzlaff Will Pocket $9,000 And Hike Back To North Dakota Farm

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Gross receipts of the Louis-Retzlaiff fight here last night were $66,826.66 it was announced today. A driving rain storm held the attendance to 14,160. Louis' end of the purse will be approximately $25,000. Retzlaff will receive approximately $9,000 for the 85 seconds he was in the ring before being knocked into oblivion by the Brown Bomber.

Man isn't so efficient. You never say one who could tuck a piece of fur around his neck to keep his legs warm.

Slippery Rock Stars

HARRY TRUMAN

RAYMOND HAYNES

Two principal reasons for Slippery Rock's prowess on the hardwood this season are Harry "Tucker" Truman and Ray Haynes whose playing to date has served warning to district quintets.

Truman annexed 17 points against Thiel and four markers when the Rockers faced the towering Westminster Titans. Haynes' steady style has menaced his opponents considerably.

Titans Defeat Waynesburg By 50 To 39 Score

Bennett Scores 21 Points In Battle At Waynesburg Floor

(Special To The News)
WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 18.—The Westminster College basketball team breezed into town last night and breezed right out again after an hour or so of making life miserable for the Waynesburg college Yellow Jackets. The score was 50 to 39. Wesley "Wes" Bennett scored 21 points to his total with eight field goals and five fouls.

Westminster led at the first half 23 to 16. In the second half P. Jackets became unruly and started to close in the Titans, so Mister Bennett got busy and flung in a few field goals and the issue was over. Bennett made seven points in the first half, but in the second stanza went to town with 14 points. The game was closer than the score indicated with the score tied several times and changing hands several times in the final half.

Johanne Krivosh kicked in with 11 points last night, while Willits had six points and Grubb a sub center had five points. For the Waynesburgians the best work was done by E. Boulder and Slidders.

Locatelli Loses Bout By Knockout
By BILL FARNSWORTH, Jr.
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Defeat comes to the best of 'em and today game Cleto Locatelli suffered his third boxing setback in this country.

Twice conquered by Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight king, barrel-chested Cleto was technically knocked out by Bobby Pacho last night at the Garden in one minute 19 seconds of the eighth round. An ugly gash over his left eye prompted referee Arthur Donovan to intervene.

The finish came after Locatelli had displayed complete mastery over the Mexican in every round. Although the stream of blood from the wound blocked his vision, he was still out-boxing and out-punching Donovan's move was wise, but it took courage. The fans jeered his action.

Had the injury not occurred, there could have been only one outcome. Locatelli was Pacho's lord and master inside the roped ring. Cleto's lefts played a tattoo upon the Mexican's swarthy face and his rights, especially in the early rounds, caused considerable trouble.

Passes Bad Check At Portersville
BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 18.—Hiram J. Burns, 41, of Derry, was held today on a charge of passing a bad check for $23.65 in Portersville. Officers said the check was given to the Humphrey store in Portersville.

Epworths And Hearts Lead In Church AA Loop

Epworth Defeat Baptists, Central Christians Defeated, Sacred Hearts Win

The Sacred Hearts and Epworths will probably battle it out for first half championship in the Church AA league following the playing of three scheduled games last night at the Y. M. C. A. floor in which the Sacred Hearts blasted the St. Michaels for a 45 to 21 count, and the Epworths took the First Baptists to town 39 to 12.

In the other game the First Christians came through with an upset victory over the highly touted Central Christians. High scoring honors in the league last night were held by Morrison of the First Christians, Slosernick of the St. Michaels, Gallagher and Merando of the Sacred Hearts, and by Reed and Nahas of the Epworths.

Teacher College Women Entered In National Contest

Will Compete In Telegraphic Swimming Meet With Other College Women

SLIPPERY ROCK, Jan. 18.—Women at State Teachers College, Slippery Rock, will compete in the 1936 National Telegraphic Swimming meet to take place sometime during the month of March. Colleges and universities all over the country have participated in this event for the past two years and have helped greatly to make it a success. The list of events is sent to all schools, and they in turn hold individual meets at their respective schools. The results of the meets are sent to the University of Illinois, national sponsor of the event.

Last year about twenty schools from the eastern district were entered and Slippery Rock succeeded in tying for first place with Swarthmore College. It is expected that the representatives from the local college will again make a fine showing in the various events.

The events include such strokes as the crawl, back crawl, breast-stroke and individual and medley relays.

Mt. Jackson Hi Takes Victory

Defeat New Wilmington In County League Tilt 34 To 15, Macaluso Stars

Mt. Jackson High School basketball team handed the New Wilmington High team a 34 to 15 upset last night at the Mt. Jackson High court. It was a Lawrence County High School league battle. Macaluso was the star of the game with 15 points.

The Mt. Jackson High team led in every period of the battle, being ahead 8 to 3. The first half it was 14 to 8, in favor of the Spearman. The third quarter found the Mt. Jackson High team ahead 24 to 12. The Mt. Jackson defense held the Zingaro, f 2 2 6. New Wilmington team to six field goals.

The Mt. Jackson High girls defeated the New Wilmington girls 28 to 17 in the preliminary game.

No Action Taken On Move To Guard Coasters On Streets

Council did not take any action Friday on a proposal presented to Mayor Charles E. McGrath and which in turn, he submitted to council relative to young men receiving WPA jobs.

The mayor said that he had been informed that it would be possible to have the WPA approve a project whereby 75 men between the ages of 22 and 35 could guard sledriders and school children against possible accidents. Each would receive 10 hours work a week.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop said that the city in July had presented a project for a traffic survey to the WPA and approval had not yet been given. He said that if both projects were approved he did not know where room would be found for all the employees.

He said that some of the higher priced labor on the WPA is not taking proper precautions to prevent accidents. He said that the city has received two bills from auto owners, their cars having gone into ditches in Reynolds street.

Claims City Liable
Throop also said that in case of inclement weather barriers which are supposed to be removed by WPA employees sometimes must be removed by city employees.

Solicitor Robert White told Mayor McGrath and colleagues that if the city puts through the project of guarding sledriders and school children, the city may be liable for any accident in which the children are victims.

He based this on a McKeesport case. A WPA employee had lost or left a dynamite cap on a project and a child found it, took the dynamite cap home and it exploded injuring the child. White said the city was held liable.

During the discussion Solicitor White said the city now has a legal right to close streets. He said that heretofore the city could not close street for sledriding purposes. The last legislature made the closing of streets legal. White said.

Sledriding is not prohibited on some streets here now. The only protection against accidents to sledriders consists of red lights, careful operation of automobiles and co-operation of the sledriders.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Small Tales: The ten-year-old son of Whit Burnett, who edits the highly literary monthly, "Story," has lived for several years of his boyhood in a suburban community where writers abound. He has heard talk of books and authors, discussions of authorial technique and special problems have buzzed around him since he was old enough to absorb such chatter and know vaguely what it was all about.

The other day his father chanced to overhear him in serious confab with the neighborhood garbage collector, who was in the midst of his chore. There was a pause in the chatter and young Burnett felt constrained to fill in the gap. He asked politely:

"And how is your new novel coming?"

The refuse disposer looked up and blinked, then growled:

"I don't write 'em. I dump 'em."

Henry King, the Waldorf Astoria jazzmaster, took me aside the other evening to display a light composition in prose which he had just completed. It was, he informed me, a short story evolved out of the titles of the various plays now running in New York—or running at the time of his effort:

"There's a MOON OVER MULBERRY STREET. ON THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16TH THE BOY MEETS GIRL. Immediately she is his FIRST LADY and life is just MAY WINE AND JUBILEE.

"They have ONE GOOD YEAR—but alas, THE SEASON CHANGES. THE CHILDREN'S HOUR intrudes upon their happiness. He attempts what he believes is THE TAMING OF THE SHREW, but fails. Their romance comes to a DEAD END. SCANDALS follow and both cry 'LIBEL!'

"The result of it all is PARADISE LOST."

Mr. King admitted that he could think of no felicitous use of "Jumbo" in his narrative. Broadway is retelling the scores of

Army Office Open Only On Tuesday

Restricted Recruiting Limits Days Here, Sergeant States

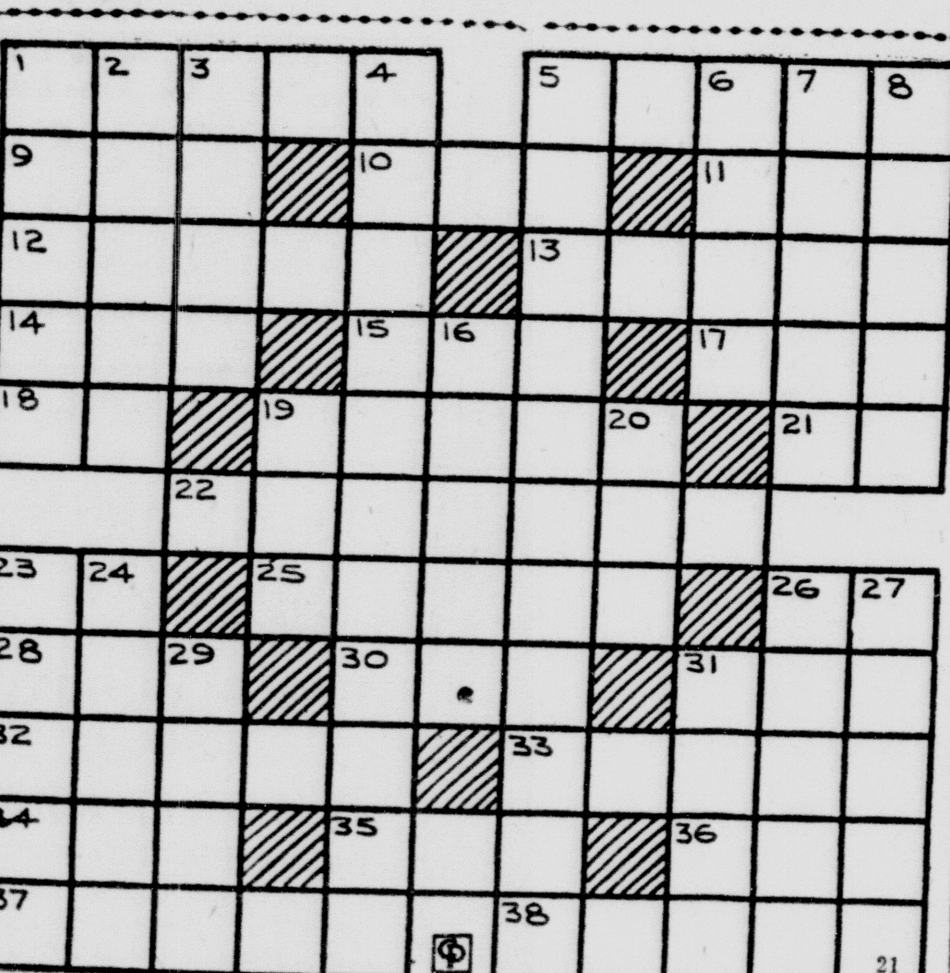

Due to the restricted recruiting program of the United States Army at the present, the New Castle recruiting station in the federal building will be open only on Tuesdays for the purpose of interviewing applicants for enlistment, Sergeant Owen E. Tighe, now in charge here, announced today.

Tighe received instructions to limit the days temporarily from Col. Russell C. Langdon, commanding officer at Pittsburgh.

Until further notice the office in Room 202, Federal building, will be open Tuesdays from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Letters may be written if a personal call is not possible.

CROTON PROGRESSIVES
At 1328 Croton avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Croton Progressive club will hold its regular meeting.

Senior Prom Is Impressive Event

Lincoln Gym Displays Galaxy Of Beauty And Color On Friday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Lincoln gym attracted a large crowd Friday evening when the semi-annual Senior Prom took place.

School directors with their wives, the high school faculty and guests, and the parents of the graduating class were special guests on the occasion.

The gym was a mass of color as a clever decorating scheme was carried out by the Senior B's. A black and white color scheme prevailed. The 12 piece local orchestra was situated in the middle section of bleachers which was decorated with artificial grass and the class colors. Some special entertainment and music had been arranged by Mr. Steinberger for the occasion.

The evening was spent with dancing and playing cards. The beautiful gowns worn by the fair sex added to the beauty of the occasion. The committee in charge of the decorations was composed of Jim Morgan, chairman, John Halota, Bill Breneman, Mildred Hess, Helen Prenta, Gertrude Christiansen.

Rev. A. J. Braun of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, conducted the services which were largely attended.

Mr. Majors is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Majors; two sons, Henry of Zelienople and Herbert of Ellwood; and four daughters, Mrs. William Miller, of Zelienople; Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. John Lewis, of Ellwood; and Mrs. Samuel Henderson of Marion township.

Interment was made in the Zelienople cemetery.

Township Officers Have Convention

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—The eighteenth annual convention of the township auditors and road supervisors of Beaver County was held on Thursday at the North Sewickley township grange hall with approximately 150 in attendance.

Reports of the state convention were given by Nelson R. Boyer, F. W. Torrence and E. E. Plugh.

A delectable dinner was served at noon by the ladies of the host grange.

A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Vinroe assisted by her daughters Violet, Daisy and Ethel May.

The guest of honor was the recipient of an array of very nice and useful gifts as mementos of the happy occasion.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR HAZEL GEARHART ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Miss Hazel Gearhart was the victim of a delightful surprise last evening when she arrived at the home of Mrs. Al Turner of Wayne avenue to find a number of friends gathered there to aid in celebrating the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

Games, music and dancing were the popular diversions of the evening and at a late hour a tasty repast was served by Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Gearhart to the sixteen guests. A prettily adorned birthday cake was a feature of this party.

Miss Gearhart was presented with a collection of very lovely gifts and responded in a pleasing manner.

BIBLE CLASSES ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Members of the Adult Bible classes of the Concord Methodist church held an interesting meeting Thursday evening when they gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of North Sewickley township for the regular January meeting.

The devotional hour was conducted by Mrs. Charles Wilkerson. Following the business meeting an appetizing covered dish dinner was enjoyed and adjournment was taken to meet again during the latter part of February.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Ruch announce the birth of a daughter at their home at Knox on Wednesday, January 15.

Finishing Wins Over Mechanics

Last Quarter Rally Gives Defending Champs 35-25 Victory Friday

COLD DRAW TRIMS OFFICE QUINTET

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Coming from behind to stage a furious rally the defending champions of the Shelby inter-department league, the Finishing cagers, overtook a five-point lead and humbled the Mechanicals 35-25 in the last quarter. In the second game the Cold Draw passers trimmed the Office 28-14.

Largely responsible for the Finishing victory was the work of young Bill Cole, ex-Ellwood high star, who scored 17 points in the last half. Barnes also played a fine game to cage five field goals for a total of 10 points. Arnold and Robuck were the best bets for the Mechanicals with 10 and 6 points respectively.

The Mechanicals took a 5-2 lead in the initial period and held it until midway in the final chapter. The scale at half time was 13-9 and in the third quarter 23-18 for the Mechanics. Then the Finishing staged their sudden rally to gain their decisive victory.

The Cold Draw never left things in doubt in the second game of the evening. They took a 7-3 lead over the Office in the first quarter and gained momentum as the game progressed. A great performance in the second period gave them a sufficient lead to coast in. Teh score was 20-4 at the end of the half for the Cold Draw. The Office had its best performance in the third quarter when they counted up 7 points to the Mechanicals.

The Mechanicals took a 5-2 lead in the initial period and held it until midway in the final chapter. The scale at half time was 13-9 and in the third quarter 23-18 for the Mechanics. Then the Finishing staged their sudden rally to gain their decisive victory.

New Brighton Hi Defeats Ellwood

Blue And White Cagers Lose Hard Fought Game At New Brighton Br 20-17 Score

CAPTAIN KREDEL LEADS VICTORY

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—An inspired New Brighton high basketball team played a bang-up game on its home court last night to defeat Ellwood City high 20-17, in a close and hard fought game.

The game was a nip and tuck affair with the score being tied no less than four times and both teams were leading at one time or another. Captain Kredel led his teammates to victory with four field goals and one foul for a total of nine points. His running mate, Carlo, got two and two for a total of six points. Captain Kraynack and Luxenberg were outstanding for Ellwood with six and five points respectively.

It was evident that the Wolverines had corrected a number of errors in this game. Their passing and ball handling was good but it would be better not to discuss their shooting of pot shots under the hoops. Only six were missed. The locals started out good and held a 6-4 edge in the first quarter. They were held to two points in the ensuing period while the home team was getting six to go out in front by a 10-8 score at half-time.

New Brighton again outplayed their opponents in the third period to take a 16-13 lead. The game was fast and furious in the final chapter. Ellwood tried desperately to overtake the Valley team, but the best they were able to do was come within one point, 18-17. With less than a minute to play a "sleeper" basket by Captain Kredel put the game on ice for New Brighton.

The New Brighton High Reserves defeated the Ellwood Reserves 16-15 in a preliminary game. The game was close and hard fought throughout. The score at the half was 6-6.

Statistics On W.P.A. Are Given

Figures On Operations During His Tenure Of Office In District

LISTS NUMBER OF EMPLOYABLES

In a resume issued today J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, Works Progress Administration, shows a number of interesting figures and facts on the organization and operation of the WPA in this district in the first six months of its tenure.

Mr. Downie was appointed on July 13, 1935, and on July 17 a quota of 12,424 workers was assigned for this district. At that time the tentative allocation of WPA workers prepared in the state office showed a total of 19,228 cases of which it was estimated that 75 per cent would be found to be employable, or 14,527. The state had already assigned 314 workers to the highway department, 1410 to the CCC camps and 179 to other work making a total of 2103 who had been given work. This figure deducted from 14,527 gave the total of 12,424 to be employed by WPA.

Increase Quotas.

Later figures showed the estimates to be too low. In some places it has been found that 95 per cent of the relief found was employable. The result was to increase the quota of relief workers twice, the last total being 18,065. Jobs have been provided for 14,714 workers but the employable files still show 3351 eligible workers' cards.

As of January 1, 14,000 man-years of employment have been found and all projects now under way will be finished, the report states.

The relief load records show that on July 20, 1935, the total for the district was 19,642 cases or about 74,844 persons on relief. Of this figure Beaver county had 6230 cases with 21,552 individuals, Butler county had 3272 cases with 14,500 persons, Lawrence county had 3490 cases with 20,477 persons and Mercer county had 4641 cases with 18,306 persons.

As of January 1, 1936, WPA has expended a total of $1,910,400 in district 14, of which $192,500 was allotted for materials and $1,717,900 for wages. The disposition of these figures shows: Beaver getting $569,300, Lawrence $626,300, Mercer $435,000 and Butler $279,800. The expense for materials in the four counties was Beaver $44,500, Lawrence $67,000, Mercer $54,000, Butler $27,000.

The number of workers by counties as of January 1, 1936, follows: Beaver, at work 4474, unassigned 922; Lawrence, at work 4544, unassigned 990; Mercer, at work 3557, unassigned 682; Butler, at work 2139, unassigned 757.

The employment situation as it relates to women classified as heads of families shows 216 women at work in Beaver county and 21 in Lawrence, a total of 237. There remain employable women as follows: Beaver county 507, Butler 191, Mercer 295, Lawrence 464, a total of 1457.

A great deal of this load will be absorbed in women's sewing projects which will start soon.

Police received reports last night that sledriders at Sheridan avenue and Albert were attaching sleds to automobiles.

Boys were reported to have acted disorderly last night at Allert and Superior streets.

Studebaker auto, Pennsylvania license 357U2, owned by A. C. Gardner, 308 Pine street, was stolen from his driveway last night.

January 18.

Our speaker next Tuesday will be Lieut. A. J. Oldham, of the Pennsylvania highway patrol at Meadville. He had not given us a specific subject but will tell us something of the highway patrol system in this state.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

To Dedicate New Hymnals

Special Program At Mahoning M. E. Church On Sunday Morning

OTHER NEWS OF WARD DISTRICT

At the regular worship hour on Sunday morning the Mahoning M. E. church will dedicate their new hymnals which have been purchased for the church by a large number of the church members.

The new books were first released for use on October 1, 1935, after a commission of outstanding musicians and churchmen had worked on compilation for several years. They include many of the hymns found in the old books, but also bring in many new ones, that will be found exceedingly worthwhile as they become familiar. The first Methodist hymnal was published in 1770 and since that time it has been the practice of the church to publish a new book about every 30 years. James R. Joy of the Christian Advocate, says: "Being familiar with all editions of the Methodist hymnal, we can honestly say that the revised edition surpasses them all. In it we have a book of the highest musical, literary and spiritual excellence."

Rev. C. H. Hagadorn will be in charge of the services. Several selections will be sung by both the adult and junior choir of the church. Miss Jane Kyle will direct the music and Mrs. Alice McClure will preside at the organ.

Five Teachers Are Honored On Birthday

Five teachers of Mahoning school were honored at a noon-time birthday party in the school library Friday. Two large birthday cakes had been provided for the occasion.

The honored five were the Misses Jane Oung Minnie Crowwell, Ethel Pitzer, Melda Davenport and Sara Patterson.

In charge of arrangements for the affair were the Misses Mary Zahnizer, Jane Kyle, Sara Patterson and Harriet Truby.

STANDARD BEARER SOCIETY

On Thursday evening, Myrtle Conn entertained members of the Standard Bearer society of the Mahoning M. E. church of her home on West Madison avenue.

The meeting was opened with devotionals. Isabelle Shaw led in a very interesting discussion on the study book "Women Under the Southern Cross." The business meeting which followed was in charge of the president, Minnie Tindall.

Later in the evening a delicious lunch was served by hosts aided by her mother Mrs. J. M. Conn.

The next meeting will be on February 20 at the home of Jane Steen on West Madison avenue.

Plans Progress For Lincoln Day

Tickets Will Be Placed In Sale In County January 20, Hazen Announces

COMMITTEES ON EVENT ARE NAMED

Tickets for the Lincoln Day celebration on February 12 will be on sale in New Castle on Monday, January 20, according to County Chairman Roy W. Hazen, today. A limited supply has been issued to each of about 10 counties, with smaller allocations to another group of six counties.

Mr. Hazen who is acting as the general chairman for Lawrence County today announced the personnel of the committees that will handle the details of the day insofar as this county is concerned. The ticket committee is headed by James A. Rugh as chairman with the following committee members: James Pitzer, Victor Minter, Milton A. Bickert, Paxton Pike, Antonio Navarro, Marshall Matheny, J. S. Bowater, W. B. Hampton, C. B. Houk, R. R. McGeorge, Dean Staley, Joseph R. McPate, Robert Hooze, Alfred Owens, Earl R. Wimer and Harry S. Cunningham.

Other Committees

The financial committee is headed by Walter W. Duff with the following members, Charles H. Young, L. W. McClung, Alex Thomas, Roger W. Rowland, W. Keith McAfee, Elmore Campbell, F. N. Moore, Charles Morrow, William Lewis, Roy Wallis.

The general arrangements committee is headed by E. Ed. Brown with the following committee members: Russell Melvin, Joseph Williams, J. P. Leslie Brindle, Dr. J. Reed, Ralph Cooper, Guy J. Wadlinger, Edward D. Prichard, John C. Wajert, Frank O. Moretti, C. C. Sweeney, Charles Ross, Harold Sidel, Dr. Frederick Taylor, Carl Davidson, Anthony Villani, W. J. Caldwell, Ivor Davis, G. R. Throop, Harry Horner, Perry Best, George W. Muse, James E. Moorhead.

The tickets will be disposed of by February 1, but it is thought that the difficulty will be in getting sufficient tickets for Lawrence County. The demand is heavy and the supply is limited. Admission to the Cathedral on February 12 will be by ticket and those without them cannot hope to gain admission.

FOUR GO TO JAIL SINCE JANUARY 6

Council Decides On Two New Cars

Will Turn In Two Old Cars And Add Cash Payment, Council Decides

Following an investigation conducted by Mayor Charles E. McGrath council has instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids for two new automobiles for the police department.

Two old cars and not more than $800, will be paid for the new machines, it was reported.

Council decided to buy the cars after City Mechanic Chris Walker told the mayor that parts worth $350, would be needed to keep the machines operating this year. An estimated depreciation of $500, influenced council to buy the cars.
